STAFF SELECTIONS

Billecart-Salmon Brut Champagne

(Champagne, France)

Founded in 1818, the House of Champagne Billecart-Salmon has remained family owned to this day, with the current owners representing the 7th generation. They are known for wines exhibiting finesse, balance, and elegance. The Brut Reserve is beautifully elegant, fresh, and lively. Its blend is made with Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, and Pinot Meunier sourced from the best sites in the Champagne region. They ensure a consistent house style by using three different years. This cuvee is characterized by small, intense bubbles with aromas of fresh fruit and floral notes. Its full flavored palate balanced by lively acidity bears witness to the ageing of this cuvee in Billecart-Salmon's limestone cellars dating from the 17th century. The Billecart-Salmon Brut Reserve is perfect as an aperitif, as well as being extremely versatile with a wide variety of dishes.

PAIRS WELL WITH

Rippleton

Meadowbrook Farms, located in Cazenovia, New York, is making some of the most sophisticated cheese in the country. Being mostly inspired by cheeses hailing from northern Italy, this creamery respects tradition and process while still being innovative. Rippleton is a washed rind 100% sheep's milk cheese that starts off as bright and fudgy, then almost instantly moves towards roasted malts, caramelized onions, and cocoa powder. The salt content is balanced alongside subtle sandstone notes and a pleasantly gritty texture from the rind. Close your eyes while eating this cheese.

Girard 2013 Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon

(Napa, California)

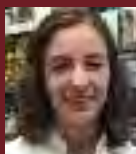

Noelle Starr

During the rest of the year, I love to drink a wide variety of wine. Come the holidays, I tend to drink quite a bit of Cabernet. While great Cab can be found globally (France, Chile, and the Pacific Northwest), I am a sucker for Napa Valley Cabernet. However, a barrier exists for me, and I am sure many of you. Napa is expensive real estate – so that designation on the bottle sets the starting price well above where the rest of the global market begins. But, it is the holidays... and while the Girard Cabernet still is not an everyday price point for almost all of us, it most definitely delivers a true Napa Cab profile for a great sale price. Girard Winery has been making wine in Napa for four decades, and yet have managed to fly under the shadow of many of their more well-known neighbors. No corners are cut here. Made from 100% Cabernet sourced from three vineyards during the near-ideal 2013 vintage, the wine is then aged for a generous 20 months in French oak. Dark in the glass, this shows fruit notes of blackberry and currant, an undertone of cedar, as well as spices that run the gamut from mint to cracked pepper. The texture is dense – think brownie versus chocolate cake, and the finish is long and satisfying. This is a special wine to celebrate the holidays. #94788

PAIRS WELL WITH Stilton Cheese

One does not need to be a seasoned cheese aficionado to enjoy the sharp blue veins found in Stilton. This bold blue gem, straight out of England, contradicts the bland tastes for which the island is known. Pair with this Cab and sesame flatbread crackers for a crunchy and flavorful experience.

2014 Elemental Cellars Pinot Noir 'Walnut Hill Cuvee'

(Willamette Valley, Oregon)

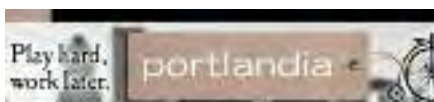

Roger Clark

Unlike Cabernet Sauvignon which thrives in climates that are dependably warm, Pinot Noir is at its best where cooler weather prevails. Unfortunately, with those cooler climates is also an element of variability from vintage to vintage. The 2012 vintage in Oregon was fabulous, 2013 less so, and now 2014, a high-quality vintage with plenty of buzz and which we were all eager to taste. Elemental Cellars is made by Steven Westby, former wine buyer here at Surdyk's. The Witness Tree Estate wines, for which Steven is also the wine maker, are more well known, but the Elemental wines are made from select lots of grapes from other growers. This wine combines the best of two neighboring vineyards to produce a wine with good ripeness, infused spice notes that run throughout and a bright finish. This wine seems built to not only be good currently, but also from 5 to 10 years from now. #106744

2014 Calera Chardonnay

(Central Coast, California)

Bill McCleary

Chardonnay – A grape with a cantankerous personality, creating delicious white wine promoting many California styles. Your glass of Chardonnay could have a buttery texture with candied aromatics, or maybe chalky with a citrus core, or likely a full complement of apple and pear fruitiness and too much seasoned oak. The taste variety and challenging array of flavors is enough to make us join an ABC club (Anything But Chardonnay!). The reality is we each like something different, and my favorite style may not appeal to you. This said, let me introduce you to the Calera Chardonnay. Owner – Winemaker Josh Jensen gained experience and knowledge in France, and the Burgundy influence is evident in his wine. This one wine is a blend of grapes from seven separate Central Coast vineyards. Think of the varietal complexities in this single bottle. He uses only native yeasts and ages carefully in French oak. This Chardonnay shows an uncommon elegance of flavor and soft spice that is tucked into a full-bodied texture with just the right amount of acidity and refreshing minerality. This is the best California Chardonnay I have tasted in this price range. Try it, I think you'll be impressed. #104841

Made with raw cow's milk produced in the Jura Mountains and aged for 16-24 months at Fort St. Antoine, this reserve Comte has a firm but supple texture that melts in your mouth, leaving a sweet, browned-butter, toffee-like finish with notes of roasted nuts and Alpine meadows. A perfect cheese.

Planning a luscious winter stew, roasted vegetables, leg of lamb or beef roast for your holiday menu? This dynamic, modern styled 'supertuscan' fits as the perfect accompaniment. Scents of black currant, bay leaf, thyme and roasted meat propel you into the bright berry and earthiness of this wine. The flavors are corralled by fresh acidity and dense (but not austere) tannins. The truly distinguishing factor of this single vineyard, 100% Cabernet Franc from just south of Siena is the understated and linear quality of its mouthfeel. This wine moves from a youthful (almost exuberant) expression up front to a fine concentration and length on the finish.

Taking cues from the opulence of a heavy red and the finesse of lighter ones, this wine is a real crowd-pleaser. I can attest, this wine drinks wonderfully now, but also has the structure to age another 7-10 years. The Argirio is serious enough to make a fine gift for the wine lover in your life yet easy enough to put in front of all your guests. This vintage is limited so get it while you can. 91 pts WS, 93pts RP. 109260

2010 La Rioja Alta "Vina Alberdi" Reserva

(Rioja, Spain)

This has to be one of my favorite wineries on the planet. Founded over 125 years ago with some of the best vineyard parcels the region had to offer, this outfit has been making some of Spain's best wines for decades. The 2010 vintage across Europe delivered a small, but very high quality, harvest. Many of the Rioja reserve-grade wines that are on the market now hail from this vintage, and I have tasted many of them, and there hasn't been a stinker in the bunch. Make no mistake, this is a great vintage for Rioja. This particular outfit has made one of their best basic reservas in recent memory with this bottling. It is old-school, light to medium bodied, clear, bright and translucent red in color, and just bursting with flavor. Framed with fresh oak, the berry notes really pop in a way that made me think... 'why can't all the wines be like this?' Use this anywhere you would otherwise pour a Pinot Noir, this is truly one of the best wines I've had the opportunity to sell (at its price point) in many, many years. Please don't miss it. #13961

The Gruyere Family

Monday, January 9

Instructor: Courtney Nulicek

We'll be taking a look at the world of Alpine cheeses, how they've evolved in Europe, and how they've influenced our domestic creativity. Cheese Shop Holiday Specials & Menu Highlights

Briana with Truffles

Reg. $31.99/lb sale $28.99/lb

Briana with Truffles is a raw, grass-fed only, farmstead cow's milk cheese from Jacobs and Brichford and their Hoosier Homestead Farm. It is dense with a semi-firm paste that is mild and creamy, with a generous share of black truffles. This is a truffle lover's dream cheese!

Chiriboga Blue

Reg. $25.99/lb sale $21.99/lb

This beautifully luscious German blue cheese is the creation of an Ecuadorian cheesemaker. Arturo Chiriboga and his Bavarian born wife moved to Germany, where he began making cheese at the Obere Muehle creamery in Bad Hindelang, using only the highest quality cow's milk from local alpine herds. Chiriboga has a cake-like texture, a rich butter cream flavor, and light fruity notes.

Hansom Cab

Reg. $22.99/lb sale $18.99/lb

Hansom Cab is Lone Grazer's first attempt at a washed rind cheese, and we think it's a winner. The cheesemaker washes this creamy, grassy, cow's milk cheese with a combination of 2 Gingers Whiskey and Lapsang Souchong tea. The whiskey lends a note of smoke and the tea balances the milky sweetness with the tannins from the black tea leaves – a nice combination.

L'Etivaz

Reg. $26.99/lb sale $23.99/lb

L'Etivaz, an Alpage Gruyere, must be made in traditional copper cauldrons, over open wood fires, and then aged for at least one year. L'Etivaz has a firm texture, a melt-in-your-mouth butteriness, and a lingering hint of fresh Swiss mountain cream on your tongue.

Montgomery's Cheddar

Reg. $28.99/lb sale $22.99/lb

Made from the raw milk of Friesian-Holstein cows, Montgomery's cheddar is still made by hand using an old world cheddaring process in the legendary land of King Arthur. Note the rich buttery flavor with grassy, beefy notes. Pairs wonderfully with stout, full flavored ales, and bold Cabernets.

Ledyard

Reg. $28.99/lb sale $24.99/lb

Patterned after Robiola, this farmstead, hand-ladled, soft-ripened pasteurized sheep's milk cheese is aged for two weeks before being wrapped in grape leaves soaked in beer. After additional aging, the resulting aroma and flavor of Ledyard is lactic, woody, and fruity, with a bit of barnyard funk. Its paste is fudgy in texture, softening with age, and is surrounded by a wrinkly rind. Ledyard won 1st in its category at the 2016 ACS competition in Des Moines, Iowa.

BYSTANDER EFFECT (LURKERS): The tendency to not act in a crisis situation. In Asch's (1951) 23% of bystanders did not act. In Darley and Latane's (1968) study, the bystander effect was found to be a function of the number of bystanders present. The more bystanders, the less likely someone will act. This is due to the diffusion of responsibility. As the number of bystanders increases, the responsibility for acting is spread among them, and the likelihood of any one person acting decreases. This is also known as the bystander effect. In a study by Darley and Latane (1968), they found that the probability of someone helping a person in need decreases as the number of bystanders increases.
