MDL Group is proud to congratulate Alexia Crowley on obtaining her CCIM designation October 2016 in Atlanta, GA!

A Certified Commercial Investment Member (CCIM) is a recognized expert in the disciplines of commercial and investment real estate. The designation is awarded by the CCIM Institute, after a candidate is required to complete an education component (comprised of a four-course curriculum, an online ethics course, negotiation training, and elective courses from the Ward Center for Real Estate Studies). Then the candidate must compile a portfolio of qualifying experience, and pass the Comprehensive Exam testing mastery of the concepts introduced in the core CCIM courses.

“Going through such a rigorous process to obtain a professional designation like the CCIM demonstrates a high level of dedication to an agent’s development.” Says, Hayim Mizrahi, President | Principal of MDL Group. Hayim and the 2 other working partners of MDL Group all hold the CCIM designation. “MDL Group has been involved with CCIM since 1991. There is little more that a real estate professional can do to advance themselves for the benefit of better advising their clients.”

Alexia Crowley is a Senior Associate at MDL Group specializing in medical and professional office sales and leasing. She is a graduate from University of Nevada Las Vegas, with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration with a focus in Marketing.
