Henderson, NV, September 14, 2016; We are pleased to announce that Debbie Landry has recently joined our publication family working advertising sales as an Account Executive.

I can't begin to tell everyone how proud and thrilled we are to have Debbie as a member of "The Vegas Voice", remarked Publisher, Dan Roberts. "Ray Sarbacker, Vegas Voice President and I have known Debbie for several years and there is no one better capable, and more professional than "Debbie Redhead".

Debbie Landry has over 25+ years in advertising sales, marketing, publishing and trade shows. She is well versed in these areas and offers her clients a 'no nonsense approach to their advertising needs. Ms. Landry will continue to manage the two (2) current trade shows; Solera at Anthem's and Sun City MacDonald Ranch's annual Home Show; and Solera's annual health Fair, these shows will be produced through The Vegas Voice. Both shows will be held in Spring 2017 and Fall 2017.

Debbie from everyone at our publication and TV/Podcasts: "Welcome again to our Vegas Voice (dysfunctional) family"!
