FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

The 13th ANNUAL NORTHWEST WORLD REGGAE FESTIVAL

Proudly presented by

NWWRF LLC

July 28 - 30 2017

Pfau Pfamily Pfarma

58800 E Marmot Rd Sandy, OR 97055 Map link

The 13th Annual Northwest World Reggae Festival ("NWWRF") is moving to the foothills of Mt. Hood Oregon, 13 miles east of Sandy. Family friendly and sustainable, NWWRF welcomes conscious musical artists from around the globe performing ROOTS REGGAE & WORLD MUSIC!

Experience the positive energy of this growing community! The excitement doesn't stop with the music. In a gorgeous environment tucked into the Mt. Hood National forest, fill your day with friends and family outdoors, join in activities such as african drum and dance, morning yoga, even take a walk to the Sandy River! Experience your musical soul and then refuel with a wide variety of delicious organic foods. Come and explore unique art, fair trade goods and crafts from more than 30 craft vendors.

NWWRF is a family friendly festival where kids 14 and under are admitted free. Kids Zone is a designated shady area for children and their guardians to rest and play. You'll find a place to meet new friends, do arts & crafts, dance, play games, or just take in the breeze at ease!

Saturday and Sunday morning beginning at 10AM, folk artist Newell Briggs and members of various African drum and dance troupes perform with and for the people. Kids and adults alike are encouraged to bring instruments and join in!

REDUCE, REUSE, RECYCLE!

NWWRF suggests bringing reusable containers to fill up with the natural cascade spring water that is available on the site. All recycling is done at one central area in order to reduce waste. At this event patrons are asked to please 'pack in pack out'. This encourages their 'leave no trace' moto. Bio-diesel fuel powers the stage, site and trucks. All food waste is composted and wind power is used at the office. They strive to use the most sustainably made paper and other products available. All food booths and the staff/performer kitchen are as organic and as local as possible. Refundable bottles and cans are donated to the Lewis and Clark Montessori Charter School. Through In Ticketing, a tree has been planted for each ticket sold, totalling over 18,000 trees over the past 8 years.

NWWRF's success is due to the creative energy, dedication, skills and talents of organizers, staff, volunteers, sponsors, vendors and performers. With the help of major community participation, this annual event continues to inspire the community to return year after year. Join the festivities and enter a world of positive and conscious culture.
