The Orthodox Way

Mission Statement: "To proclaim the Gospel of Christ in the Orthodox Tradition while creating a vibrant, loving, compassionate and supportive community."

A Message from Fr. Daniel

Who is Community?

In the midst of the congregation, I shall sing praises unto Your Holy Name. –from the 40-day Churching Service

The Biblical messaging of the Church at the 40-day Churching Service (Psalm 22:22, Hebrews 2:12) assumes that a community exists through which the infant will be reared to praise God. Not only is the infant being introduced to the community, but the community's responsibility toward the infant is recognized – to show, teach and be Church! Without a community, no Church exists! The Christian Church is manifest when a group of two, three or more gather together with a shared faith in our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. But once we are gathered together, what makes us a community? Through our experience of Church, how are we teaching that infant to praise God? To know Him? To love Him?

Offer hospitality to one another without grumbling. –1 Peter 4:9

God first offered hospitality when he offered to mankind the Garden of Eden (Genesis 2). It was pleasing to God when Abraham offered hospitality to three strangers (Genesis 18:1-8), and this central virtue of Christian behavior is still pleasing to Him this day! When you offer yourself to a fellow parishioner, a friend of the community, or any stranger — you develop a core tenet of Church. This offering can be in the form of a welcoming exchange, an invitation to fellowship, or even simply the purity of an authentic smile. The offering of hospitality is pleasing to God, and that in and of itself suffices as motivation for a community that strives to be Church. As Saint Peter articulates, we must not offer hospitality out of a sense of burden, a grumble, or negativity. If we do, we miss out on the heavenly reward that awaits a virtuous life and it is easily recognizable to those who are receiving our offering. Truly, a community must be a wellspring of warmth and hospitality if we are to teach that infant child how to praise God and what it is to be Church.

Being welcoming is the beginning of community experience, but what then? What connects us to one another and maintains us as community? Jesus Christ.

When you actively engage a life connected to Jesus Christ, through committed adherence to the teachings of Scripture and participation in the liturgical life of His Church, you not

A Message from Karen

Happy New Year Saint Demetrios Family:

Thank you so much for the grand generosity of AHEPA, Philoptochos, the Dance groups, Tim & Elizabeth Berg and Bob & Despina Read. Because of your donations and hard work, our Church looked warm and inviting this Christmas. I know the decorations will be fabulous year after year.

Tis the season of New Year's Resolutions, I want to share with you three goals I have for the Church space right now. I want to reach out to ask that a group of volunteers, or families, or a ministry team would claim one of these areas:

1. Empty, clean, re-stock and re-organize the small kitchen
2. Empty, clean, re-stock and re-organize the library.
3. Empty, clean, re-stock and re-organize the staff kitchen.

The result of accomplishing these goals is not only gaining a clean and organized space, but it is a chance for bonding. There is nothing like working with a group that has a common vision: in this case, the vision would be keeping our Church spic and span and functioning at her highest capacity. A secondary benefit is the work party will be effecting a mini-inventory so we can use what we have rather than buy items we already have. On the St. Martin de Porres website there is a statement about working together for a common good:

"We have faith that the good is there and that we can discover it together through our solidarity with one another in all the pain and joy of life."

Speaking of which, I took some photos of the Philoptochos ladies volunteering to feed St. Martin de Porres ministry. They are smiling in these photos, so don't miss your chance to smile and serve! Please contact the Church office if you would like to adopt one of these areas that need cleaning and reorganizing.

Office Supervisor

We wish to Thank...

James G. supporting the December St. Philaret feeding of the homeless.

A Message From the PC President

Dear Saint Demetrios Community,

Thank you for an outstanding 2017! Its been an honor to serve you, thank you for the opportunity to do so. As PC President, I'd like to thank each of you for your support, dedication and generosity of time, treasure, and talent, throughout the year. You are all so appreciated. On behalf of the parish council, we wish you a Happy New Year and hope your Christmas was wonderful.

Georgene Looney
PC President.

The Seattle Philharmonic is pleased to announce that we will be presenting a rare performance of a superb composition by Dimitri Mitropoulos: the symphonic poem "Tafi", as part of our concert at Benaroya Hall on Saturday, January 27, 2018 at 2:00 p.m.

Mitropoulos, one of the most important musicians of the 20th century, wrote several major works in his youth, but eventually gave up composing in favor of a conducting career. "Tafi", one of the few works he wrote for symphony orchestra, is an extraordinarily moving composition, its devout composer's musical vision of the burial of Christ.

We are proud to present this work in its West Coast premiere; this will also be its second-ever performance in the United States.

We cordially invite you to this special event, and hope you will come to celebrate one of the outstanding figures in Greek culture.

only grow closer to Him, you also grow closer to the others in the community who are also attempting to live connected to Christ. In the shape of the Cross – our vertical relationship with God edifies our horizontal relationships with one another and vice versa!

As a community and the individuals who comprise her (that means you and me), let us focus this year on the most basic principles that gather us as a community, and define us as Church. Be hospitable. Be welcoming. Be connected. Be empathetic. And at the root of these experiences, Be kind!

With Love in Christ,
+Fr. Daniel Triant

Sunday School News

Godparent Sunday

The role of the Godparent in the Orthodox Church is an important one. Along with the parents, the Godparent is charged with the responsibility of assisting in the spiritual development of the child. Whether a blood relative or not, the Godparent is now embraced as part of the "spiritual family" of that child.

On Sunday, February 4, 2018, we will celebrate Godparent Sunday to recognize the importance of the Godparent/Godchild bond in Christ. On this special day, consider taking communion together with your Godparent/Godchild. An opportunity for photos will also be available during the coffee hour.

Sunday School Update

Thank you to our Youth Director, Lefteris Sitaras, for directing this year's Christmas Program, "Just A Little Christmas." We appreciate his time and dedication in organizing this wonderful performance featuring our Sunday School children! We are also grateful to the many parents who assisted with the program. Finally, thank you to all of the Sunday School teachers and parents who donated refreshments for the December coffee hours.

Stewardship News

In November, you likely received a pledge card to fill out from the Stewardship Committee. And for the next several months, you will see this hard-working group spend a good amount of time chasing folks down to turn these in. If you're a long-time parishioner, you might be asking yourself, "Why do they ask me for a card every year? Don't they know who I am?"

And the truth is, you don't. The church doesn't turn anyone away. You are always welcome here, and it should feel like home. You don't have to fill out any card, but hopefully, you'll want to – it's like the marriage which I was preparing for at that time.

Regardless of our marriage status at the time, I loved my then-fiancée (now-wife). But I wanted her to know that she could count on me – that I would take care of her – so I made that commitment in the form of marriage.

The stewardship pledge card is a bit like that: it's an opportunity to reflect on our commitment to take care of the church. According to the dictionary, a steward is literally someone who takes care of the property of another. The pledge card is a yearly confirmation that we're making the commitment to take care of God's home on earth, just as he's preparing us a home in heaven.

In addition to the card being a symbol, it also serves a practical purpose: it helps those who run the church prepare a budget. Before I joined the parish council, I honestly didn't look at the church budget much. I just figured that if I paid my stewardship and worked at the festival, the lights at the church would stay on. Unfortunately, it's not that simple – not at all.

Now that I've been one of those who help figure out the church's budget, I have to say - it really helps the parish council to know how much money the church will be getting from its stewards.

Like most organizations who make yearly plans, the church has a giant spreadsheet that lists its expenses and income. We know and can anticipate a majority of our expenses, but income? The church has the festival (where we make an educated guess on the revenue), miscellaneous fundraisers (which can vary), and we have stewardship, but the parish council only knows this amount from those who bother to fill out pledge card.

I mean, imagine trying to make plans for your life the way the church is forced to. It would be like your boss telling you that you're getting paid every week, but he can't tell you how much or when you're going to receive it. How would you ever plan for the future?

As Father Photios mentioned in a sermon a few weeks ago, our ultimate goal is to fully cover our church expenses with stewardship pledges. And it's not as impossible as it sounds, especially if everyone gives from the heart of their talent and treasures.

The following people were omitted from our St. Demetrios Christmas Card. Our apologies...

Andreas & Rosalie Boulteris Jim & Shawn Hages Anthony, Sandra, George & Nick Maroussis

JUBILEE WOMEN'S CENTER

THANK YOU FOR DINNER!

St. Demetrios hosted a delicious dinner for our sisters at JWC in December. Special thanks to those who provided food or helped serve- Christina Meletis, Sarah Baraki, Julie Legeros, Maria Ales-Rainwater, Tina Pallis and Paula Charuhas-Macris. Our dinners are always appreciated and enjoyed by the residents as they help to stretch their grocery budgets as well as provide friendship...

If your family, group or restaurant would like to host a meal at Jubilee, please contact Georgene Karambelas at 206 817 2523 or karambelas@comcast.net

...AND THANK YOU FOR CHRISTMAS GIFTS!

St. Demetrios assembled a Giving Tree and provided gifts for our 43 residents! Our parish, along with two other neighborhood churches were able to fulfill most all the requests of the women. Thank you to all who "Took a tag and Gave a Gift"... You provided much joy to many! New Year's Blessings to all of you!

Orthodox Missions News

Why Orthodox Missions?

Just before His Ascension, Jesus left his disciples (and us) with the following command: "Go therefore and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And I am with you always, to the end of the age." (Matthew 18)

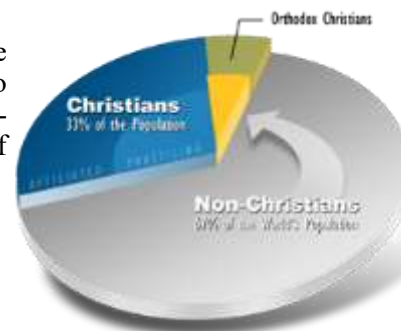

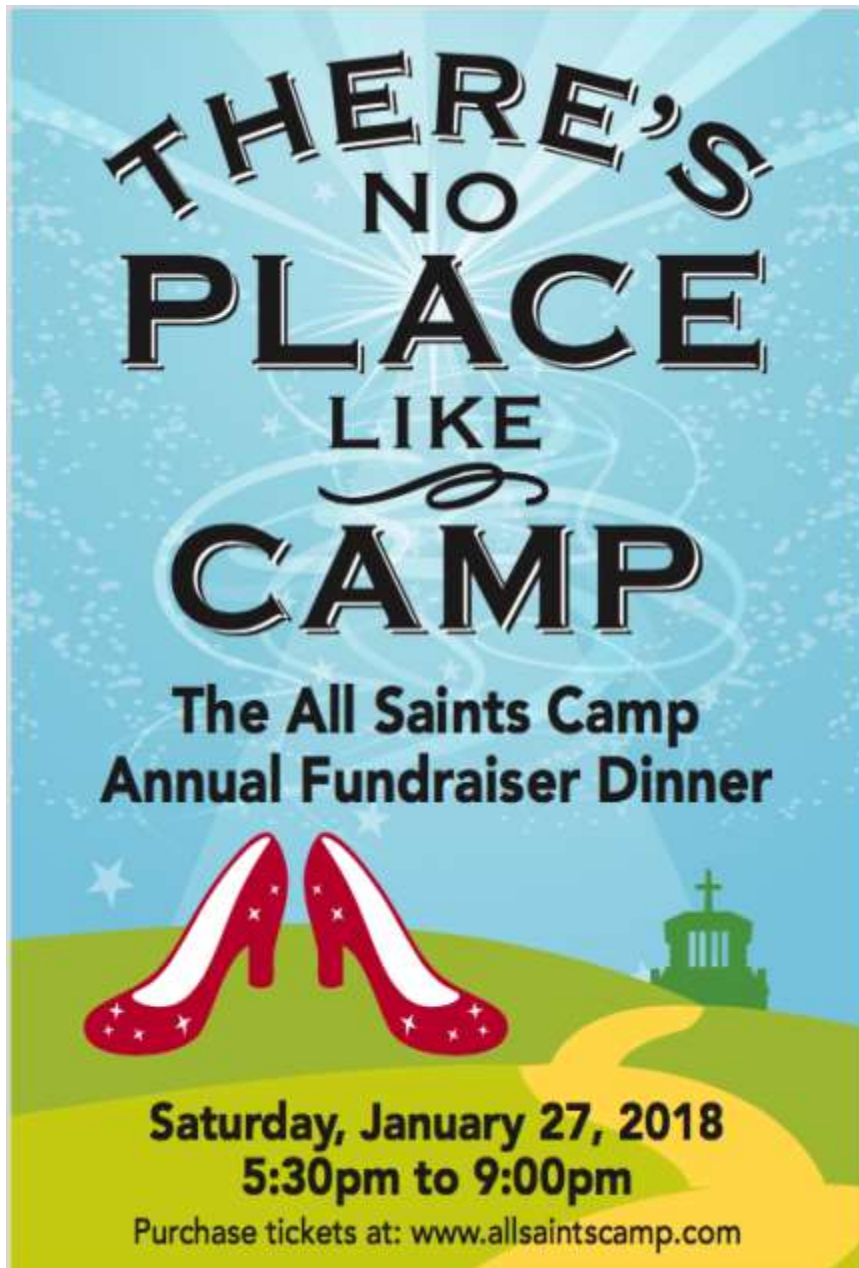

The Opportunity

Orthodox Christians represent only ~12% of all world Christians and ~4% of the world's total population. This translates to over 5 billion people in the world who do not know the hope, love and joy of a life in Christ. OCMC helps Orthodox Christians from North America welcome people around the world into the Body of Christ.
