

JA's volunteer-delivered, kindergarten-12th grade programs foster work-readiness, entrepreneurship, and financial literacy skills, and use experiential learning to inspire students to dream big and reach their potential.

How can YOU get involved:

JA in a Day

Deliver a hands-on & interactive lesson plan in a classroom all in one day! This is a great team building experience to do with co-workers and great for those who want to get a program done in one day.

"It's a fabulous experience. JA plans the whole lesson for you and if you prepare ahead you can add your own insights and examples. It's way easier than you might think and it's FUN!"

— Britany Cantrell, Oceans Community Federal Credit Union

JA Job Shadow Day

Can't get away from work for a day? Let the kids come to you! Giving local students a tour of your company gives them an opportunity to see how work gets done and is an effective way to show them how products are made or services are promoted.

JA Titan Mentor

Guide a team of 3 high school students through the challenges of running a business. Teams will compete against other teams and make critical decisions on price, production, research, development, charitable giving, etc.

JA Traditional Volunteer

JA matches you with a teacher and over several weeks you will deliver a hands-on, interactive lesson plan that allows you to add your life and work experiences to the lessons, to show kids how you got to where you are today. You can also book the sessions around your busy schedule! This is a terrific way to give students insights into banking, manufacturing, entrepreneurship, and other skills.

What does JA mean to the students?

"Junior Achievement reinforced concepts for me to remember later in life." -JA Student

JA brings kids to the workplace and provides them hands on opportunities that they may otherwise never have!

JA programs help students understand the world of work, what skills are necessary to succeed, and how to continue growing professionally.

What does JA mean for volunteers?

"JA allows me to grow as an employee."

When volunteering with JA employees learn time management, practice public speaking, relationship building skills, and much more.

JA delivers work readiness skills to students and volunteers alike!
