US Senate Releases Health Care Bill Draft

The United States Senate released, at the end of June, their version of a health care bill (<http://bit.ly/0717-1>). This bill, which the Congressional Budget Office scored as affecting 22 million people (<http://bit.ly/0717-2>), is similar to the U.S. House of Representative bill (<http://bit.ly/0717-3>). Like the House bill, the Senate bill would continue Medicaid expansion (albeit for three years, instead of two) until eventually capping state funding. It would allow the states to define "essential health services." It would defund Planned Parenthood. It would:

- Allow the states to define "essential health services"
- Defund Planned Parenthood
- Eliminate taxes on the wealthy set under the Affordable Care Act (ACA) to help cover costs
- Eliminate the mandate to have insurance, although there are some rumors that the Senate will try to impose a time (instead of cost) penalty
- Eliminate the mandate that large employers make health insurance affordable.
- Differ in some significant ways, in that it may allow preexisting conditions to be covered
- Allow income and location, as well as age, determine tax subsidy amounts.

Like the ACA, both the House and Senate bills would allow children to stay on their parent's health insurance until aged 26. On June 27, 2018, Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell postponed consideration of the Senate bill because he did not have the votes to pass it. The President has called for the bill to be repealed (<http://bit.ly/0717-4>) before a replacement is ready; the Senate Majority Leader says he will try to replace and repeal, and indicated possible bipartisan work to do so. Where the bill - or other health care efforts - go from here remains to be seen.

House Financial Services Subcommittee Attempts Change to Johnson Amendment

Congress made an attempt make a change to the the Johnson Amendment by including it in the Financial Services FY2018 appropriations bill (<http://bit.ly/0717-5>). As we noted in our February e-Newsletter (<http://bit.ly/0717-6>), Congress has made previous attempts to repeal the ban on partisan activity by 501(c)(3) nonprofits by introducing two bills, H.R. 172 and H.R. 781. Nonprofits are safe spaces in our communities, designed to be above the political fray. Being nonpartisan allows us to focus on solving problems, helping our neighbors, and enriching our communities. Keeping this protection in place is essential to nonprofit missions and credibility. Tim Delaney, President and CEO of the National Council of Nonprofits (councilofnonprofits.org), released a statement noting 72% of voters prefer to keep 501(c)(3) protection. Click here to read the full statement (<http://bit.ly/0717-7>).

New York City Fiscal Year 2018 Budget Update

The Mayor and the City Council agreed to the New York City's Fiscal Year 18 budget (<http://bit.ly/0717-8>) in June. The budget provides for some increased funding for nonprofits (<http://bit.ly/0717-9>), including increased funding for food and meals, while also increasing contributions to the City's reserves. According to our colleagues at the Human Services Council, the city budget includes these impacts on nonprofits:

- Funds to bring indirect cost reimbursement rates to 10% over five years, beginning with a $14.5 million investment this year and growing to $88 million annually.
 - $36 million to support a model budget process for preventive services, senior centers, runaway homeless youth, and adult protective services with plans for additional model budget processes in fiscal years 2019 and 2020.
 - Multi-year COLA commitment of 2% at a cost of $90 million over the next three years.
- The Mayor's Office issued a fact sheet (<http://bit.ly/0717-10>) on the budget.

New York State To Collect Data On Gender, Race, Ethnicity, Job Title And Salary As Of June 1, 2017

New York State Executive Order 162 (<http://bit.ly/0717-11>), signed by Governor Cuomo (<http://bit.ly/0717-6>) on January 11, 2017, requires state contractors (<http://bit.ly/0717-12>) to disclose data on the gender, race, ethnicity, job title, and salary of employees performing work on state contracts issued and executed on or after June 1, 2017.

SCOTUS Decision On Travel Ban

On June 26, 2017, the Supreme Court of the United States decided to hear the issues raised in the Federal Administration's "Travel Ban." In the interim, the Court lifted stays issued by the lower courts, allowing part of the ban to be implemented. However, the Court did keep parts of the stays by prohibiting a ban on people who have a "bona fide" relationship to the United States. (It should also be noted that the Court generally does not continue a stay (<http://bit.ly/0717-13>) unless it believes that there is a "substantial likelihood" that the law or policy will be found to be illegal.) As reported by the Nonprofit Quarterly (<http://bit.ly/0717-14>), the Court's decision "lifted the stays issued by two U.S. Circuit Courts of Appeals, but with a condition. The injunctions remain in effect for 'foreign nationals who have a credible claim of a bona fide relationship with a person or entity in the United States.'" In other words, the executive order does not stop travel to the U.S. by such persons. The decision and its 'bona fide relationship' distinction affects both immigrant and refugee status. This means that any refugees that meet the test must be admitted, regardless of the 50,000-person limitation included in the executive order."

This is intended for individuals at your organization with basic to intermediate expertise who manage communications, impact communications strategy, and/or carry out communications implementation.

Application deadline is Friday, July 7, 2017 at 5:00pm. Acceptance notifications will be sent out by Wednesday, July 12. If you have any questions, contact Joe Taylor, Programs Manager, at 212-502-4191 or e-mail taylor@npccny.org. Click here to apply. \(http://bit.ly/0717-17\)

THE NEW YORK COMMUNITY TRUST 2017 NONPROFIT EXCELLENCE AWARDS

2017 Nonprofit Excellence Awards Semifinalists to be Announced this Month!

The 2017 New York Community Nonprofit Excellence Awards are underway and our expert Selection Committee will meet in mid-July to select this year's semifinalist organizations from the pool of 45 applicants. Stay tuned for the formal announcement on Monday, July 24th!

In the meantime, be sure to save the date for the Best Practices Workshop and Awards Presentation on December 1, 2017, where this year's winners will be honored.

NPCC manages the Nonprofit Excellence Awards in collaboration with The New York Community Trust, Philanthropy New York, and The Clark Foundation. WNYC is the media sponsor. Additional financial and in-kind support is provided by Ford Foundation, JPMorgan Chase, RSM US LLP, and Columbia Business School Executive Education Programs in Social Enterprise.

NPCC's Communications Learning Labs begin July 27

Voter registration and get out the vote activities are among the most effective, inexpensive, and inclusive forms of advocacy and community engagement. This interactive forum will focus on how low voter turnout affects nonprofits and the communities they serve; how Nonprofit Coordinating Committee and Human Service Council members have increased voter turnout and how your organization can begin to do voter education, registration and get-out-the-vote work for the November election and beyond.

Key Takeaways:

As part of our discussion, we will discuss how to reach people who typically don't vote, brainstorm how increased political participation could positively impact the communities we serve, and identify key phrases to include in an elevator pitch about why voting is important.

This forum will be presented by Louisa Hackett, Director of Community Votes, and is cos-sponsored by Human Services Council. Visit <http://bit.ly/0717-18> to register.

Do NYC Boards Reflect the Diversity of Our City?

Please take this 20 minute survey to help us understand how nonprofits think of diversity, equity, and inclusion on their board. The survey results will help inform our final report on board diversity strategies, gaps, and resources. Complete the survey and you'll receive a free copy of the report.

This survey is a project of NYC Service's NYC Nonprofit Board Development Coalition in partnership with the NPCC and the Council of Urban Professionals. Your responses to these questions will remain completely confidential and the results will be reported in the aggregate. Visit bit.ly/nyn0617-15 to begin survey.

New York Nonprofits

New York Nonprofits is a monthly publication of the Nonprofit Coordinating Committee of New York, Inc. (NPCC).

Editor: Heysha Nameri, Communications Coordinator
For information or questions about the e-newsletter email hnameri@npccny.org.

NPCC was established in 1984 to help nonprofits meet common challenges and problems, to serve as a meeting ground, and to strengthen the nonprofit sector as a whole. NPCC has more than 1,400 members in the New York metropolitan area, ranging from all volunteer groups to major institutions.

Membership in NPCC provides a place where your voice is heard and adds to the collective voice of the nonprofit community. Dues for 501(c)(3) nonprofits (that are not grant makers) are based upon the organization's annual operating budget. Waterfront Alliance Develops Online Tool for High Risk Coastal Areas

As hurricane season approaches, elected officials and advocates are demanding better coastal defense and waterfront security. NPCC member Waterfront Alliance has developed an interactive online tool where users can view neighborhood evaluations of waterfront safety, environmental health and public access. "The Harbor Scorecard will help citizens of coastal areas in NY, NJ, and LI understand, neighborhood by neighborhood, three important things: How vulnerable they are to the next [Superstorm] Sandy, how good or poor their water quality is and how much direct access to the water they have," says Waterfront Alliance President and CEO Roland Lewis. New City Council Bill May Protect Nonprofits from Tax Lien Sale

A new city council bill (Int. 1656) has been introduced which would exempt any property owned by a nonprofit organization from the City's annual tax lien sale. Additionally, the bill would provide an exemption for any property for which the owner has submitted a pending initial or renewal application for not-for-profit property tax exemption. Prior to 2012, nonprofits could apply for and hold permanent property tax exemptions from the Department of Finance. Due to complaints of compliance issues from the Department of Finance, the city made it a requirement to apply for exemption annually. The change led to many nonprofits losing property to private investors and incurring debt. Visit <http://bit.ly/0717-20> to read more.

Sterling Network NYC: Information Sessions - email rscf@rsclark.org to RSVP

Robert Sterling Clark Foundation
Thursday, July 6, 2017 5:30pm - 6:30pm
Tuesday, July 25, 2017 5:30pm - 6:30pm
Monday, July 11, 2017 1:00pm (Network Webinar)
FREE

The Robert Sterling Clark Foundation is launching a new initiative, Sterling Network NYC, designed to build a network of systems leaders who will tackle the challenge of enhancing economic mobility across New York City.

The new initiative will foster and support the development of a diverse group of high-impact change-makers who will come together through regular convenings to build cross-sector collaborations that will bring about systems change. Sterling Fellows, as they'll be known, will also build their capacity to engage as leaders of the complex collaborations that are needed for lasting social change. Network members will meet for three immersive retreats annually, and will have ample opportunity for collaboration, learning, and action between these gatherings.

The Foundation is looking for leaders who care about equity and NYC. We are hoping to find them in a range of sectors, fields and disciplines, including nonprofit organizations, government agencies, business, media, academia, artists, and the law. The most promising candidates are individuals who have sufficient professional authority, autonomy, and networks to make real-world decisions to move change forward.

Additional information and applications are available at <http://www.rsclark.org/network>, and will be accepted through July 31st, 2017. Email rscf@rsclark.org to RSVP for the information session(s).

Race to Lead: Confronting the Nonprofit Racial Leadership Gap - bit.ly/0717-29

The Building Movement Project conducted the Nonprofits, Leadership, and Race survey. This report, the first in a series to be released over the next two years, will compare people of color and white respondents' background, aspirations to be leaders, training, and attitudes towards leadership. Over 4,000 respondents answered questions about their current nonprofit job, interest in leading a nonprofit, training/supports, views of leadership, and personal background. They were also asked about their views on race and the nonprofit sector.

Nonprofit Technology Policy Workbook - bit.ly/0717-30

By documenting your policies, sharing them widely, training users to understand them, and enforcing them consistently, your nonprofit can significantly reduce the risks and ensure that everyone is clear on what's expected. Idealware created this workbook to help you think through specific policies to manage your nonprofit's risk. It contains prompts to help create and document policies for the acceptable use of technology and networks, personal devices for work, how to provide IT guidance to "accidental techies," how to respond to an IT incident, and how to recover your technology after a major disaster.

2017 Fundraising Effectiveness Survey Report - bit.ly/0717-31

Association of Fundraising Professionals

The Fundraising Effectiveness Survey enables participating groups to measure and compare their fundraising gain and loss ratios to those of similar organizations. Participants can use this industry data to make better-informed, growth-oriented budget decisions to boost donor revenue. This year's survey report summarizes data from 10,829 nonprofit organizations covering year to year fundraising results for 2015 - 2016.
