The Real Paul Recovering his Radical Challenge

Bernard Brandon Scott, Perry Kea

Paul dominates our view of early Christianity. He is credited with the authorship of half the New Testament and is a main character in the book of Acts. But many writings attributed to Paul did not come from him. Who then was the real Paul? Was he the great convert to Christianity, the first antifeminist, someone who found the Torah too great a burden? These portraits obscure Paul from our vision. This seminar is about finding the real Paul for today.

Bernard Brandon Scott (Ph.D., Vanderbilt University) is the Darbeth Distinguished Professor Emeritus of New Testament at the Phillips Theological Seminary in Tulsa, Oklahoma. A charter member of the Jesus Seminar, he is the author of several books including The Real Paul (2015) and The Trouble with Resurrection (2010).

Perry Kea (Ph.D., University of Virginia) is Associate Professor of biblical studies at the University of Indianapolis, Indiana. He has been a Fellow of the Jesus Seminar since 1987, in the course of which he has contributed several papers including “New Testament Literary Genres,” “Listening for Luke’s Voice,” among others.
