

SOLIDARITY FARM, Riimenze

We believe that self-sustainable farming can help to win the fight against hunger and to generate income.

Solidarity is working to promote the formation of improved agriculture in South Sudan. The development of better agricultural practices and the introduction of new crops and livestock is helping the local people acquire new skills that can be implement in their own gardens.

Rimenze Farm:

- 🌱 The livestock unit for sheep, pigs and oxen was established in the centre of the farm including pits for collecting farm yard manure for organic fertilizer production
- 🌱 Moringa oliphra leaves are used to produce plant teas as liquid fertilizer
- 🌱 500 additional cashew nut- and jackfruit trees were planted
- 🌱 The first coffee plots are ready for harvest
- 🌱 Additional 3 Feddan of improved sweet potatoes planting was introduced
- 🌱 Planting of Luceana leucocephale as high value fodder tree for livestock
- 🌱 Regular in-service trainings (Monthly) are carried out to upgrade the knowledge of the 17 key workers in the farm
