

Chief Executive Officer
Clinical Center
(Review of Applications Begins: September 13)

The National Institutes of Health is recruiting for the Chief Executive Officer, Clinical Center. This position provides leadership, vision, and direction to the nation's largest hospital devoted entirely to clinical research. The CEO will have overall authority for the operation and management of the NIH Clinical Center. The incumbent will lead the development of all hospital operations policies, including those related to patient care, safety, and quality improvement, and ensure that the Clinical Center meets or exceeds all accreditation and licensure standards. S/he will work very closely with the Clinical Center Hospital Board, the Clinical Center Governing Board (CCGB), and the Institute and Center Directors, and provide regular updates to these groups, while reporting to the NIH Director. The incumbent CEO will represent the Clinical Center in a variety of settings, internally to NIH and externally, and will maintain continual, open, and effective communication with key stakeholders, including the Clinical Center Hospital Board and CCGB members, Institute and Center leadership, Clinical Staff, patients, members of the Executive and Legislative Branches, and officials of academic, research, and other institutes and organizations, as well as professional and advocacy groups.

We are looking for applicants with a commitment to scientific excellence and have the energy, enthusiasm, and innovative thinking necessary to lead within a dynamic and diverse organization. The incumbent will possess extensive experience and an in depth knowledge of the implementation of clinical research or equivalent experience in a field of health science plus senior-level executive experience and knowledge in one or more areas related to healthcare administration and/or medical management. For the full list of qualifications, please see the announcement located at <http://www.jobs.nih.gov/vacancies/executive.htm> and https://jobs.nih.gov/vacancies/executive/cc_c eo.htm.

The successful candidate for this position will be appointed at a salary commensurate with experience and accomplishments, and full Federal benefits, including leave, health and life insurance, retirement and savings plan (401K equivalent) will be provided. If you are ready for an exciting leadership opportunity, please see the detailed vacancy announcement at <http://www.jobs.nih.gov/vacancies/executive.htm>.

Applications will be reviewed starting September 13, 2016, 11:59 p.m, ET; and the application period will close when a candidate has been selected. Please contact Brenda Fogel at SeniorRe@od.nih.gov for questions and/or additional information. DHHS and NIH are equal opportunity employers.
