Merritt Hawkins academic recruiting department has partnered with University of Minnesota, one of the nation’s top ranked medical schools, to invite you to consider the opportunity to join their dynamic, multidisciplinary Department of Dermatology. We are seeking a candidate to serve as the Director of Dermatological Surgery and overarching Director of all dermatological surgery clinical services. This opportunity offers an Academic appointment, great quality of life, the ability to teach, option to be involved in research, and a competitive benefits package. The features of this opportunity include:

PRACTICE

- Academic Leadership Opportunity; Serve as the Overarching Director of Dermatologic Surgery at one of the nation's top ranked medical school
- Academic appointment at one of the largest public research universities in the country
- Department has world-renowned clinical programs, nationally recognized educational program, and known for pioneering clinical trials
- Work in state-of-the-art brand new facilities
- Opportunities for research, protected time; research development opportunities are numerous, with built-in support systems already in place
- Significant opportunities for teaching residents, medical students, and other health professional students
- Excellent benefits, Retirement package, and competitive salary

MINNEAPOLIS/ST. PAUL

In addition to enjoying an excellent work-life balance with a reputable academic program, enjoy living in a scenic metro area offering:

- Metro area of 3.8 million
- Access to international airports
- World class cuisine and culture
- Countless outdoor amenities
- World-class performing arts and cultural activities
- Be part of an eclectic art and music scene, enjoy theater performances
- Run, bike, skate, or stroll on miles of city trails
- Explore more than 300 parks
- Excellent public, private and higher education options available
- Enjoy 5 major professional sports leagues
This institution is an affirmative action equal opportunity employer that values diversity. Candidates of all backgrounds are encouraged to apply.

All applicants and referrals should contact Ashlie Korb, Senior Search Consultant, Academic Recruiting for more detailed information and to navigate the application process.

Ashlie.korb@merritthawkins.com | 469.524.1676