

4-H Poultry Judging Clinic

University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Department of Animal Science

April 22nd, 2017

10am-2 pm

Are you interested in learning how to judge production poultry? Wanting to compete in the Poultry Judging Contest at the Premier Animal Science Event (PASE)? Come join us for a fun day learning how to judge production poultry.

When: April 22, 2017 at 10 am until 2 pm

Where: UNL Dept. of Animal Science, Room D107

Cost: $10 (Checks Payable to: University of Nebraska-Lincoln)

During the clinic you'll learn how to:

- Judge live hens for egg production
- Give a set of oral reasons on production hens
- Candle and grade eggs
- Grade and evaluate broiler chicken carcasses, etc.
- Participate in a mock judging contest

What to bring:

- A Lunch (Name that Breed Contest during lunch)
- The National 4-H Poultry Judging Manual

*The judging manual may be purchased from your local extension office or may be purchased the day of the clinic for $7.45 (Checks payable to: University of Nebraska-Lincoln)

- A Note pad
- Pencil or Pen

-----Detach and Send with $10 payment-----

Name _____ Age _____ County _____

Address _____

Phone _____ Email _____

Parent/Guardian _____

Emergency Phone _____

Please detach and mail with payment to:

University of Nebraska-Lincoln

Dept. of Animal Science

C/O Dr. Sheila Purdum

P.O. Box 830908

Lincoln, NE 68538

Questions?

Dr. Sheila Purdum, Extension Poultry Specialist

402-472-6451

spurdum2@unl.edu

Brett Kreifels, Douglas-Sarpy Counties 4-H

402-444-7896

bkreifels3@unl.edu