

2018 SPONSOR GUIDE

COALITION to STOP
VIOLENCE AGAINST
NATIVE WOMEN

TOGETHER, WE DO MORE.
TOGETHER, WE ARE THE MOVEMENT.

WHY SPONSOR

For more than 20 years, CSVANW has been a leader in the movement to end violence against Native women and children in our tribal communities across the region. At the forefront to a dynamic approach to this work in domestic and sexual violence prevention, CSVANW demonstrates the most effective, creative and innovative ways to address the cycle of violence, creating strong networks among health care or social service providers, advocates, law enforcement and others.

We do this by shaping policy, conducting educational outreach and creating priorities to ensure that our communities are heard within conversations where we have historically been underrepresented. These are some of the methods the Coalition has been effective in among state, federal and tribal stakeholders, and, most importantly, in our tribal communities.

Whether you are a business owner or provider, lending your support to CSVANW will help the organization not only fulfill its mission but aid thousands in this movement. Your message and support will also reach tribal leaders, state and national decision makers, survivors, service providers, executives, programs, regional directors, business owners and youth, in addition to tribal communities across the Southwest.

Benefits of Sponsoring CSVANW:

- Directly reaching a well-defined community of change-makers and leaders across the region.
- Further branding your business and discovering opportunities to develop new business or service leads by connecting with a seldom untapped audience of thought leaders, tribal communities and Native youth.
- Formally or informally joining and supporting the difficult conversation of violence among the most vulnerable residents in America, in turn generating awareness as a proud supporter of the movement to end violence.

ANNUAL TRIBAL LEADERS SUMMIT

March 20-21, 2018

Average Attendance: 200

Sponsorships: $1,000 to $5,000

Benefits: Free event attendance, logo placement on event materials, website, social media and advertising information, and logo placement on each of the tables.

The Annual Tribal Leaders Summit is a two-day conversation on the status of violence against Native women and children in New Mexico. The event highlights tribal, state and federal perspectives and challenges that our tribal communities face across in addressing and responding to violence.

The summit includes a briefing on policy and legislative updates, field experts sharing best practices directly from our tribal communities and a current state of affairs in the movement to end violence.

Registration is free and lunch is provided on both days.

ANNUAL NATIVE YOUTH SUMMIT

May 27-30, 2018

Average Attendance: 40 Native Youth from across the region

Sponsorships: $1,500 to $5,000

Benefits: Free event attendance, logo placement on event materials, website, social media and advertising information, and logo placement on each of the tables.

The Annual Native Youth Summit is a four-day, powerful leadership development experience that connects, challenges and cultivates a cohort of Native youth ages from 12 to 18 from across the region. This summit is designed to elevate Native youth into leadership roles that will transform their lives to transform their tribal communities.

Native youth face many challenges in today's world. CSVANW has carefully crafted a summit experience that builds a supportive and transformative network.

Summit attendance is free. Travel, lodging, meals and supplies are provided to all youth selected to attend.

ANNUAL #IWillRunForHer

COMMUNITY 5k & 1k KIDS' RUN

October 6, 2018

Average Attendance: 400 Runners and their families

Sponsorships: Starting at $250 to $1,000

Benefits: Logo placements on shirts, website, social media, and event course signage

October is National Domestic Violence Awareness Month. For many domestic violence survivors or others doing this work seeking self-care, running is healing and movement is medicine.

Four out of 5 of Native women are affected by violence, and of the four, 55% experience domestic violence. At this annual community event, we ask participants to dedicate their run to raise awareness on how they or their loved one(s) have been affected by domestic violence to honor the resilience, strength and spirit of our Native women.

Registration is free.

ANNUAL AWARDS GALA

AND AUCTION

October 20, 2018

Average Attendance: 200

Sponsorships: Start at $1,000

Benefits: Free event attendance, logo placement on event materials, website, social media and advertising information, and logo placement on each of the tables.

The annual Awards Gala and Auction is CSVANW's signature event showcasing the unique and indispensable contributions of our region's Coalition champions who have made significant contributions in the movement to end violence against Native women and children.

Each year, CSVANW celebrates the exemplary individuals and recognizes the importance of their visionary leadership and highlights the achievements they have made not only within their community but to all tribal communities. The event includes an auction and dinner, with the auction a generator for the Coalition's non-discretionary funds.

Tables or individual tickets are sold to pay for the cost of food and related expenses.

PAST SPONSORS

AmerindRisk

Zia Graphics

Forms Plus

American Indian Chamber of Commerce

Verizon Wireless

Crime Victims Reparation Commission

Institute of American Indian Art

New Mexico Coalition of Sexual Assault Program

Native American Professional Parent Resource

Native American Community Academy

Eight Northern Indian Pueblo Council, Inc

National Indian Youth Council, Inc

Laguna Development Corporation

Pueblo of Pojoaque

Taos Mountain Cason

COALITION to STOP
VIOLENCE AGAINST
NATIVE WOMEN

