Todd Cheever, MD Named Associate Dean of University of Kentucky College of Medicine's Bowling Green Campus

Dr. Todd Cheever, longtime UK faculty member & administrator, will serve as the first associate dean for the University of Kentucky College of Medicine's Bowling Green campus. Dr. Cheever has been the associate dean for student affairs for the past 16 years.

In February 2016, the UK COM announced plans to develop a four-year medical school program in Bowling Green. The regional campus, in partnership with the Medical Center at Bowling Green & Western Kentucky University, is planned to host 30 medical students per year for a complete four-year curriculum beginning in the fall of 2018. The UK COM-Bowling Green campus will be a fully functioning four-year campus, utilizing the exact same curriculum & assessments as UK's Lexington campus.

Matthew L. Bush, MD Awarded Phi Kappa Phi Dissertation Fellowship

Matthew L. Bush, MD, associate professor in the Division of Otology, Neurotology & Cranial Base Surgery at the UK COM, has been selected as a recipient of a 2017 Dissertation Fellowship from The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi. Dr. Bush is one of only 10 recipients nationwide to receive this fellowship. He is a doctoral candidate in the Department of Behavioral Science at UK. His research investigates hearing health care disparities in underserved rural populations with a goal to develop & implement innovative interventions that improve the diagnosis & treatment of hearing loss.

Mark B. Evers, MD Elected into Association of American Physicians (AAP)

Mark Evers, MD, surgical oncologist at the UK, was recently elected into the Association of American Physicians, a nonprofit organization founded for the purpose of advancing scientific & practical medicine. Each year individuals who have attained excellence in achieving the AAP's goals are nominated by the Council of the AAP & competitively selected as members.
