

BETH WILLIAMS

Beth Williams has been a resident and active member of the Houston community since 1964. She is an entrepreneur who has worked in commercial real estate for decades. In 1993, she co-founded the firm, TechTrans International (TTI), which she owns and operates, serving as both CEO and Chairman of the Board.

TTI is an international language and logistics firm that provides services in 124 countries and 63 languages from offices in Houston, Russia, Jordan, Georgia, Azerbaijan, Colombia, Uzbekistan, and Kazakhstan. The firm supports a wide array of cooperative projects and international programs in diverse technical fields including aerospace, global security, and energy development, to name a few.

Beth was selected as the Houston Business Journal's 2016 Business Woman of the Year in the business-for-profit category. She received a Lifetime Achievement Award from the Houston Technology Center and is an Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year® 2011 Gulf Coast Area award winner, a member of the Houston Economic Development Organization, and a graduate of the Center for Houston's Future.

Beth actively serves the greater Houston community through participation in organizations that focus on local needs including education, health, culture, and business leadership. Beth has mentored students in the University of Houston Bauer College of Business for 20 years and has established the TechTrans International Endowed Scholarship for students in the college's Entrepreneurship Program.
