

advertisement

FEATURE > INSPIRING AMERICA

INSPIRING AMERICA FEB 6 2017, 6:06 PM ET

The Philadelphia Man Who Transformed a Bar Into a Youth Safe Haven

by AMANDA GOLDEN

SHARE

advertisement

Philadelphia's Strawberry Mansion neighborhood was known for its poverty and crime. But a hometown hero stepped in to change the landscape.

Kevin Upshur grew up in the area, and it's still his home today. His mother had owned a bar, but as the neighborhood grew more violent, she decided to close up shop. When she passed away in 2006, she left the property to her son and, along with it, a final request — use the space for more than it was.

"She said you know you have to do something because of all the crime in the community," Upshur told NBC News.

As a result, Upshur transformed the space. Where there used to be rows of liquor now sit books and computers. Converting the family-owned bar into a learning center for local youth, the Strawberry Mansion Learning Center opened its doors in 2008.

The patrons now? Children from the neighborhood.

"It's an after-school program," Upshur said. "So they actually do their homework here. And, you know, it's a mentoring program."

Kevin Upshur. 📺 NBC News

Upshur works overnights as a youth detention counselor, running the Learning Center in the afternoons. Today, he gets a lot of help; everything from computers to food is donated, and friends and neighbors are integral to running the show.

Wayne Tomlin was from the neighborhood, and he got involved when Upshur asked him one day to help out with transportation for a trip with the kids. He's worked there ever since.

"My favorite part every day is getting here before them kids get out of school and opening that door," he said. "And when they come in, they know that they can count on this learning center being here. And they could come in and get their work done."

Marcquis Graham started with the program when he was 11 years old. Now he's 22, and he's helping new kids discover the center.

"Mr. Kevin, he's like a father to me," he said. "And just talking to me. Just motivating me to do better and be a leader. And one thing I can say about him — he never judged me, no matter what."

Kevin Upshur. 📺 NBC News

The Learning Center's demand is great, as the local high school's graduation rate is low, its truancy rate is high and nearly every student is categorized as economically disadvantaged.

"I'm doing better at math and reading," 10th-grader Kevin Davis said. "I've matured more since I've been here."

The best part of it all for Upshur?

"When I see the kids having a good time," he said. "I see them smiling."

Today, the Learning Center is thriving, and it's even working on building an expansion on the next-door lot. While Upshur's mother didn't live to see it become a reality, he knows she would have been proud to see what her old bar has become.

AMANDA GOLDEN

TOPICS

FIRST PUBLISHED FEB 6 2017, 6:06 PM ET

↓ NEXT STORY Principal Shaves His Head for Bullied Student Supporting Sick Grandfather

More to Explore

Sponsored Links by Taboola

First 100 Days: "Make Retirees Rich Again"

Money Morning

My Husband and I Tried Blue Apron, Here's What Happened

Blue Apron

Landlines Are A Thing Of The Past And Not Because Of Cell Phones

Worldwide Consumer Tips

SPONSORED CONTENT

MORE FROM NBC NEWS

We're Exploring Amazing New Recipes Thanks to Blue A... Blue Apron

Coronado, California: How Boston Grads Are Dis... EverQuote Insurance Quotes

The amazing VA benefits not enough vets are clai... LendingTree Mortgage Quotes

Landlines Are a Thing of the Past And Not Becau... Worldwide Consumer Tips

How Car Dealers Get Rid of Unsold Inventory Auto Deals Ace

Duchess Kate is outrun by Prince William and Prince Harry in relay r...

Principal Suspended After Trump Skit

Dry Weekend Ahead as Temperatures Drop

Dog Rescued from Tight, Six-Foot-Deep Hole in San Ysidro KNSD

Josh Mankiewicz Previews: A Texas Twist

Promoted Links by Taboola

Sponsored Links by Taboola

More to Explore

The amazing VA benefits not enough vets are claiming LendingTree Mortgage Quotes

Coronado, California: How Boston Grads Are Disrupting a $19 Billion Industry
EverQuote Insurance Quotes

Can Meal Preparation Kits Save You Money? Watch What CBS Found
Home Chef

I Tried Blue Apron and Here's What Happened
Blue Apron