

KOMAL
MADAR

Visions of Colour

Komal Madar is a British Indian artist based in West London. This is her first solo exhibition showcasing a large collection of her work; including paintings which have featured in world leading names like Vogue, House and Garden, The World of Interiors, and Inside Artists magazine.

Madar studied at the prestigious Central Saint Martins College where she graduated in art and design. She then went on to complete her BA in Fine Art and English Literature at The University of Reading (2007) and later, a Diploma in Fine Art from the Byam Shaw College of Art (2008).

She has undertaken commissioned art works for well renowned establishments in Cambodia and London, and has been selling original artwork and limited edition prints worldwide. Madar was recently selected to exhibit in Rome with Artrooms Artfair at the Church Palace Hotel (March 2018), and has also been a twice-shortlisted artist at La Galleria Pall Mall for the Royal Arts Prize Exhibition.

Madar's work embraces a rich, bold and vibrant palette; drawing inspiration from nature, abstract shapes and in particular the female form. This investigative method gives a personal exploratory energy to Madar's paintings. Her Indian heritage has also played an essential role in influencing her choice of materials and subject matter.

"It's very exciting for me to see my work in one space for the first time. Visually I seek for an element of beauty and mystery in my work, and for the point of entry to be intriguing to evoke an emotion in people. I want the viewer to go on a journey that not only highlights my visions of colour but also offers an insight into my subconscious/ spiritual state and my interest in ideas around transcendence."
