

Capital Region Jewish Genealogical Society

Organizational Meeting

Sunday, September 17, 2017

10am-12noon

At the Jewish Federation of Northeastern New York

The Golub Center

184 Washington Avenue Extension

Albany, NY 12203-5306

(just west of Crossgates Mall)

You are invited to join a group of interested members of our community in the first meeting of the Capital Region Jewish Genealogical Society.

Whether you are:

- a beginner who wants to pass on your family history to your children and grandchildren;
- the family historian who want to contribute your research to the larger Jewish genealogical family;
- looking for lost or forgotten relatives;
- a Holocaust survivor or a child of survivors still searching for loved ones lost during the Shoah;
- a non-Jew looking for your lost Jewish heritage or helping family members find their histories;
- an individual wants to get in touch with one's Jewish heritage.

Please join us on Sunday, September 17. The program includes discussion about the unique skills involved in successful Jewish genealogical research as well a structure of our newly formed organization. Light refreshments will be served.
