Golf Tip

Set-up "Width of Stance"

Beginning with the shorter clubs (i.e. the wedges) your feet should be just less than or slightly inside 'shoulder width'.

The distance between your feet should slowly move further apart as we move upwards up through the clubs and they gradually get longer.

By the time you get to the woods (i.e. the longest clubs in your bag) your feet should be fully outside shoulder width apart (i.e. the insides of your feet, or your arches should be vertically in line with the outside of your shoulders.
