

Interfaith Conversations

Wednesdays

March 8, 15, 22, & 29

6:30–8:30 p.m.

A safe space to listen to and learn from leaders and people of other spiritual/faith traditions. These evenings foster conversation, celebrate our differences, and develop tools to strengthen the whole. Each will begin with a simple soup supper at 6:30 p.m., followed by a structured conversation at 7 p.m.

March 8 Imam Jamal Rahman

Jamal Rahman is a popular speaker on Islam, Sufi spirituality, and interfaith relations. Along with his Interfaith Amigos, he has been featured in the New York Times, CBS News, BBC, and various NPR programs. Jamal is co-founder and Muslim Sufi minister at Interfaith Community Sanctuary and adjunct faculty at Seattle University.

March 15 Faiza Sultan

Faiza Sultan has worked as an Arabic and Kurdish interpreter, translator, teacher, and curriculum developer for more than sixteen years. She is a writer, a poet, and a cultural adviser who has been featured in newspapers, TV, and radio. She was also featured in a documentary about translators at war called "The Language of War."

March 22 The Rev. Terry Kylo

Terry Kylo is the pastor developer of The Catacomb Churches and author of two books: Being Human: The Image of the Serving God (2004) and Apprenticeship: Embracing Life and Practicing Humanity in the Way of Jesus (2011). Terry also serves as a pastor of an ecumenical partnership of five churches in the Skagit Valley of Washington state.

March 29 Dr. Ann Holmes Redding

Anne Holmes Redding is a former Episcopal priest, who was defrocked in April 2009 for having become a Muslim in March 2006. Redding identifies with both faiths "100 percent," explaining that this is possible in the same way that she can be both an African American and a woman. She continues to worship in the Episcopal Church, as well as with Al-Islam Center of Seattle.
