

This grass in the garden is also known as Oro Verde Perennial Ryegrass. This grass is known to withstand under colder climates so there wouldn't be a need to replant this grass through seasons. It is great for outside wildlife's nutritional values. Also, it adds a lot of personality towards the garden.

This flower is known as Beth's blue Star flower. The petals are usually light blue/purple with a Green stem. These flowers only grow in the fall And spring seasons. They are very easy to maintain And add character to the garden.

This plant has tiny pores where the pollen is located. This flower adds different character in the garden because it looks much different from every other flower in the whole area.