

Dan Faustina has attended Our Savior for six years with his wife, Jessica, and two children, Danica and William, who were both baptized at Our Savior. Danica began attending OSLS as a Kindergartener this fall. Dan has been involved in a variety of community volunteer activities, previously serving as president of the Kiwanis Club of Pleasanton, president of the Board of Directors for the Pleasanton Junior Football League, coach for multiple youth football teams, and County Commissioner of the Alameda County Consumer Affairs Commission. At his previous congregation (Trinity Lutheran), he served as a youth leader for high school ministries and as a member of the building committee.

Dan graduated from Pepperdine University and currently serves as the Vice President of Employee Benefits at a national brokerage firm.

Dan's highest priorities for the ministry are to support and engage members of Our Savior by engaging with diverse membership through expansion of outreach, technology, and communication; to engage and grow our membership through expanded worship opportunities, including a contemporary service; to share the love of Christ and OSL's ministry with the greater community; to prioritize School and Church collaboration through cross participation and outreach to school families; to continue to update Church Strategy and Financial Plan by utilizing his background in strategic and financial planning to ensure OSLM can support growth and new technology; and help address the needs of our ever-changing community.
