We are excited to announce that we recently completed the development of an iPhone app for the OZCO product line - the OZCO Project Explorer. OZCO has also introduced 21 new products including the OWT Lite series. OWT Lite is a more economical version that directly lines up and competes with other manufacturers. There are also several new products including beam couplers, wine glass and beer can holders, plant holders, towel holders and more. For more info contact your MBP Sales person.

Finally, when a dealer places an order for an OZCO display their locations will be included on the OZCO Dealer locator. Individuals from across the country can enter their zip code when they want to find where to buy OZCO. The dealers in the system that are nearest to the inquiry will be provided to the individual.
