

Coming to a Monitor Near You

We are delighted to announce the official launch of our new website, mitek-us.com. Please visit our website on or after Thursday, February 16th to see our new changes.

This new site is designed to support all aspects of the MiTek USA business, and integrates our latest in web design, the latest in user experience best practices, and the capability to be found easily by anyone searching for us online.

We believe this is the beginning of a powerful tool for all of our customers across the US residential construction industry - that includes not only our Component Manufacturing customers, but also Builders, Building Material Dealers, Engineers and Architects.

Also, join us in conversation on any of our social channels:
