

Eviction Experience Survey Media Toolkit

About the Campaign

In partnership with the Housing Alliance of Pennsylvania, the Bucks-Mont Collaborative is gathering feedback from individuals who have faced eviction or housing instability.

This short, confidential survey ensures that lived experience is centered in shaping housing policy and helps us advocate for policies and investments that prevent eviction, ensure that past evictions aren't lifelong barriers, and advance solutions to address our region's affordable housing crisis.

The stories and insights collected through this effort will strengthen our advocacy with local, state and federal leaders—grounding policy discussions in the real experiences of the individuals, families, and communities most affected.

Why It Matters

Surveys like this are a vital part of our advocacy toolkit. They help us bring the realities of housing instability out of the abstract and into the conversations where policy is made. Earlier this year, results from a CAN survey helped inform testimony before the PA House Democratic Policy Committee, ensuring that local stories and data were represented in Harrisburg.

By helping share this new survey, your organization is contributing to that ongoing effort—ensuring that the voices of those directly impacted by eviction and housing loss continue to guide how we talk about, and advocate for, housing policy across Bucks and Montgomery Counties.
