In today's uncertain and shifting landscape, strategic collaboration is more essential than ever. Join us for an insightful session designed for nonprofit leaders, board members, and stakeholders who are exploring deeper forms of partnership—from coordinated action and strategic alliances to mergers and acquisitions.

This session will provide:

- An overview of collaborative models and when they make sense
- Key indicators of organizational readiness
- Essential questions to guide your decision-making process

In addition, hear from the Nonprofit Repositioning Fund to learn how their grant programs support organizations in assessing, exploring, and implementing collaborative strategies.

Whether you're just beginning to consider partnership opportunities or already on the path to formal collaboration, this session will equip you with the tools and perspectives to move forward with clarity and confidence.
