Diversity Equity and Inclusion Council Presents

"TRAILBLAZERS: A PATH FOR ALL"

For over 100 years in our country, people have been paving the way for freedom, fighting injustice, and creating resources for those suffering from mental illness, and disabilities, and the underserved communities in our society. We are honored to showcase some individuals raising awareness on many fronts in a special virtual panel discussion. On Thursday, June 13th, from 9:30 – 11:00 AM, Child Guidance Resource Centers' Diversity Equity and Inclusion Council will host a panel to hear from some committed community advocates in "Trailblazers: A Path for All." Our prestigious panelists include Troy Brindle, CEO of Phoenix Behavioral Health, Jess Branas, Upper Darby Township Council Member and LGBTQ+ Advocate, Carol B. Amos, Award-winning author of "H.O.P.E. for the Alzheimer's Journey: Help, Organization, Preparation, and Education for the Road Ahead", Mayor Ed Brown, the first black Mayor of Upper Darby, Pa, and Dr. Archye Leacock, Founder and Director of IDAAY, Institute for the Development of African American Youth. We hope the messages from these trailblazers will help lead others to a path of mission and service.

Our host will be Dr. Staci Clark, PsyD, Director of Prevention & Intervention for the School District of Philadelphia, Office of Student Support Services, and a member of the DEI Council, who will facilitate the discussion. All are welcome to join in and hear from our panelists with no advanced registration required. The Zoom ID is <https://cgrc-org.zoom.us/j/4273720254>.
