"As a young physician entering medicine after Fellowship training I believed I was well-prepared coming out of a very busy urban academic center. However; I quickly realized there is much more to learn about medicine in modern day practice given new regulations dictating the practice of medicine and often tied to reimbursement. I strongly and highly recommend this course to any new or soon-to-be graduate from medical training wishing to enter the world of medicine with a physician led, patient centered approach. Participating in this course it has given me a better understanding of the intricacies involved and complex decision-making and the ability to more effectively communicate administrators. Thank you to the Medical Society of Delaware and to the course director's for offering such a comprehensive course." - Ismet Lukolic, MD

"It seems like I still have a lot of questions about reading a balance sheet. I'm not sure I could "look at the books" of my hospital and know how financially secure it is, but at least now I have some resources to begin to know what questions to ask. I thought the budgeting section was very well done." – Mark Boytim, MD

"I am thoroughly enjoying the course and I realize that I will continue to need to reference the course materials over time." – Daniel Meara, MD, DMD

"I think the MSD physician leadership course is great. It seems to be specifically structured toward private practice physicians. [...] The MSD coursework seems to be a good overview of many different practical practice topics." – Nathan Merriman, MD
