

Meghan Walls, PsyD is a licensed psychologist practicing integrated healthcare at Nemours Children's Health. Dr. Walls holds appointment as assistant professor at Sidney Kimmel Medical College at Thomas Jefferson University. She also serves as Legislative and Policy Advisor in the Division of External Affairs, where she focuses on advocating and lobbying for policy that benefits the health of children and their families.

Dr. Walls recently served as the Electronics Communication Chair for the Society of Pediatric Psychology Board of Directors as well as the State Advocacy Chair for the Delaware Psychological Association. Dr. Walls is a Governor-appointed member of Delaware Early Childhood Council as well as the Behavioral Health Planning and Advisory Council, co-chair of the Lt. Governor's Behavioral Health Consortium data and policy committee, and appointed by the Delaware Secretary of Education to serve on the Pathways Middle School Steering Committee.

Dr. Walls has been honored with a number of awards, including 2020 DBT40 (Delaware Business Times 40under40), Delaware News Journal's 2020 Most Influential Delawareans in Politics, 2019 Nemours Physician Excellence in Community Service Award, the 2019 National Alliance on Mental Health, Delaware Healthcare Provider of the Year.

She is active in the community and serves on the Board of Directors for Opportunity Labs, an education think tank, and Brandywine Valley SPCA, as well as the Red Clay Parent Advisory Committee.