

Living With COPD in Rural Ohio

Are you an adult 65 years of age or older diagnosed with Chronic Obstructive Pulmonary Disease (COPD)? We invite you to join a special Community Engaged (CE) Studio where your lived experience can help guide COPD management research. Share your insights, connect with researchers and make a real impact. Your voice matters!

Who Can Participate

- Adults 65 years or older
- Have been told by a doctor they have COPD (including chronic bronchitis or emphysema)
- Live in Ashtabula or Columbiana County, Ohio
- Caregivers of individuals who meet the above criteria

What's Involved

- Attend a 2-hour virtual session with other participants and researchers
- Share your experiences and feedback about managing COPD
- Help identify barriers for treatment and exposures to COPD
- Receive $100 as a thank you for your participation

Your insights will help researchers improve COPD care in rural Ohio.

For questions contact Ivory Simms PhD at ivory.simms@case.edu or 216-368-5774

Scan QR to register

Meet the Researchers

Jacqueline Curtis, PhD
CWRU

Jin Kim-Mozeleski, PhD
CWRU

Tsuang Wayne, MD
Cleveland Clinic

Community Facilitator

Lacey Caporale, PhD
Cleveland State University