Moving in Together — Temporary Possessions/Occupations for Infrastructure Projects

Wednesday, November 17, 2021

12:00 pm Eastern Time

1 IRWA CEU

Temporary Possessions/Occupations have become somewhat problematic for major infrastructure projects throughout the world. In the past, many of these requirements were required for a few months whereas we now have situations where the temporary rights are for years. The purpose of this seminar is to have infrastructure specialists from Australia, Canada, U.K. and the U.S. discuss challenges associated with this trend. Some of the discussion points include how different agencies are dealing with compensating and other factors such as a change in the highest and best use and the importance of maintaining a good relationship during this extended time period.

Speakers:

Michael McCall, MAI, President, McCall Valuation Concepts | United States

Colin Smith, Senior Director, CBRE | United Kingdom

Tom Smith, Land Access Lead, Infrastructure Planning and Approvals | Australia

Jay Wong, SR/WA, AACI, P. App, PLE, Senior Director, MPR Advisors Inc. | Canada

Moderator:

Tom Smith, Land Access Lead, Infrastructure Planning and Approvals | Australia

For over 30 years, Tom’s experience in land matters has included road, rail and ports in state government authorities and the private infrastructure sector. From compulsory acquisition, tenure management and lease management, Tom moved into the rapidly developing Coal Seam Gas megaprojects that Australia had embraced. Tom has achieved success in resolving complex negotiations and developing key commercial strategies. Most recently, he has been responsible for leading land access negotiations for major gas pipeline projects on Australia’s east coast. As a founding member of IRWA Chapter 86, Tom is the current President of a growing member base across Australia.
