

Good News! Aiken is open for business

We are so excited to see our members open for business. We want to share the good news with everyone. The Aiken Chamber's Director of Membership Services, Jim Tunison, has been busy capturing short videos of members as they shout out the news - Aiken is open for business!

The "Good News" social media campaign began on May 7 and has had phenomenal results. Thirty-four businesses have participated, and more are scheduled. To date, the Chamber has reached over 31,000 people for local businesses. The Aiken Chamber has over 6,000 followers on Facebook and that number continues to grow daily.

Make sure you follow the Aiken Chamber's social media accounts so you can stay up to date on the latest business openings. Help us celebrate and spread the good news by reacting to, sharing, and commenting on each post. Every positive action helps our business owners get back on their feet. So spread the news, support local and continue to be Aiken Strong.

Members interested in participating should contact Jim Tunison at (803) 645-0144 or jtunison@aikenchamber.net.
