(Greenville, SC) Greenville Chamber President/CEO, Carlos Phillips, has been named to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Committee of 100 (CCC100), a committee designed to guide the work of the U.S. Chamber.

This distinguished committee advises the U.S. Chamber's board of directors, enhances their lobbying and coalition work, recommends programming, strengthens outreach to the business and chamber communities and proactively identifies emerging issues that will impact chambers and their members.

"The CCC100 has a long-standing reputation as one of the most prestigious appointments in the chamber community," said Sara Armstrong, Vice President and Managing Director, Political Affairs and Federation Relations at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. "These new members reflect our continued dedication to naming diverse, high-profile leaders to serve on this important committee."

Phillips will step into the role in March of 2020.

"I am deeply honored to be named to the Chamber of Commerce Committee of 100 and humbled to be selected amongst the best in the industry," said Phillips. "I am excited to serve the U.S. Chamber while honorably representing the Greenville Chamber on a national stage."
