

CSI PACIFIC ASYMPTOMATIC TESTING

Who is it for?

NSO & PSO affiliated athletes, coaches and support staff

Why is it needed?

To provide asymptomatic testing for individuals/groups that:

- 1. Are entering a domestic training camp or bubble
- 2. Are travelling domestically or internationally for training or competition
- 3. Are returning from domestic travel and require a negative Day 5 test to return to training/competition
- 4. Other NSO/PSO specific requirements for testing

What is the process?

- 1. NSO/PSO staff member is responsible for completing request form [XLS] to begin process
- 2. Test scheduling occurs as a result of a completed request form
- 3. Location, Date and Time of sample collection(s) will communicated to NSO/PSO staff member
- 4. CSI Pacific waiver(s) will be sent to NSO/PSO staff member to be completed by individuals being tested
- 5. Masks must be worn at all times during sample collection
- 6. Test results are guaranteed within 72 hours of sample collection
- 7. Test results will be communicated directly to tested individual (unless otherwise indicated OR individual can access test result through an account on MyCareCompass (external link)

When does sample collection occur?

- 1. Based on availability of CSI Pacific physicians or affiliated nurses
- 2. Based on requirements provided by NSO/PSO

Where do sample collections occur?

- 1. Victoria
- 2. Whistler
- 3. Vancouver
- 4. Other locations will be serviced at best effort (with additional courier costs)

How does it work?

- 1. Physician or nurse collects sample on test date
- 2. Sample is transported to nearest LifeLabs location to be entered into system
- 3. LifeLabs transports samples to their main laboratory to be tested
- 4. Test result is reported back to CSI Pacific
- 5. Test result is reported to tested individual

Important Note: The NSO/PSO staff member in charge of organizing asymptomatic tests is responsible for communicating all details of this info-sheet to athletes, coaches and support staff that undergo testing. For urgent / time-sensitive matters, individuals being tested can reach out to CSI Pacific directly using the contact info below

To book or for more info, contact:
Nitin Tailor | medical@csipacific.ca