

Greetings to our fantastic community of supporters and patrons. After much deliberation and consideration, we've determined it's time for The Colonial to proactively respond to the steeply climbing rate of COVID-19 infections, especially as we gear up for our first live music event next weekend.

For the safety of our artists, venue staff, and our community as a whole, we will be requiring proof of vaccination or a negative COVID-19 PCR test within 24 hours for admittance to events at SHOWROOM until further notice. In addition, masks are required to be worn at all times while at the venue. You may pull your mask down when eating or drinking only, regardless of your vaccination status.

Please bring a photo of your vaccination card or negative PCR test timestamped within the last 24 hours, along with a corresponding state or federal ID for entry.

If you have already purchased tickets to an upcoming event and are unable or unwilling to adhere to this policy, you may request a refund by emailing or calling the following contact information.

All Colonial Performing Arts Center staff members are fully vaccinated, and we encourage anyone who has yet to be vaccinated to get their shots as soon as possible.

This was not an easy decision to make. However, we're confident it is the right and healthy decision to make at this time. We're navigating some extremely challenging circumstances as a performing arts organization, and want to do everything in our power to ensure we are keeping our Patrons, Bands, Employees, Vendors, and Community safe. Thank you so much for understanding.

Remember: Be Safe. Be Kind. Be Hopeful
