

IT'S ALL IN THE CONNECTIONS

MAEEE CLASS OF 2027

MAEEE Cohort Returns to UD

This summer, 16 educators from 10 states returned to the University of Delaware for four weeks of intensive coursework in the Master of Arts in Economics and Entrepreneurship for Educators (MAEEE) program. The cohort attended classes led by Dr. Andrew Hill and Dr. Jim Butkiewicz, participated in workshops with area professionals, visited the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia and completed final exams in microeconomics and macroeconomics. Roundtable discussions, an MAEEE reunion, and the annual CEEE's Personal Finance and Economic Education Conference provided additional opportunities to collaborate and build connections with other educators. The 4-week session concluded with a celebratory lunch before the educators returned home to spend the coming year completing their final implementation projects.
