

Scott Hillis

Scott Hillis is the Director of Marketing for the San Luis Obispo Chapter of SCORE. He has been a SCORE member for 5 years. He has owned several businesses in foodservice, consulting, traveling and business management. Scott is active in several chambers of commerce, presents SCORE workshops and has promoted SCORE on podcasts and in front of civic groups. He has a degree in English from San Diego State University and has taught classes in purchasing and supply management at the California State University in Sacramento.