

Évora

Évora is a Portuguese beautiful city located in the Alentejo, a large region of wide plains on the south of Portugal, bordered on the North by the Tagus River, and on the South by the region of Algarve to the west by the Atlantic Ocean and to the east by the Spanish border. The city is relatively close (140 km) from Lisbon, and 80 km far from the Spanish border (Badajoz). The city has a very well preserved historical centre, partially enclosed by Medieval walls, where many valuable monuments can be visited: a Roman temple, a Museum, churches and chapels, university, just to name a few. Évora is a UNESCO World Heritage Site (UNESCO - Historic Centre of Évora) and also a member of the Most Ancient European Towns Network.