PROMISES

By Heartland Herald Staff

Our long-time readers know that this newspaper was founded on Christian, Constitutional and Conservative roots for the purposes of enlightenment, education and encouragement.

Sometimes, in reading about the current news of what is happening around the world, it is difficult to see anything that is positive about the future. It is then that our editorial staff remembers that our name, Herald, means "an official messenger bringing news." As one definition states, "A good newspaper should be a herald of truth."

One measure of truth is whether or not promises made are promises kept. Beginning in 2016 it is our belief that the God on whose Word America was founded, prepared an unlikely man to lead and restore this nation.

Donald J. Trump made a promise to raise the income for the lowest paid workers and by 2018 earnings were the best in 20 years.

He promised to bring companies back to America and more than one trillion dollars came home because of the TCJA bill he signed.

He promised to make America energy independent, and the U.S. surpassed Russia and Saudi Arabia to become the world's largest producer and exporter of crude oil.

He promised to fix the broken VA system by removing employees with poor performance. Availability and access to and quality of care for Veterans have improved dramatically.

Border walls were built; taxpayer funds paid to organizations killing unborn babies were cut off; the stock market broke closing records 100 times reaching 131 all-time highs.

Most important, President Trump facilitated Middle East peace agreements once thought impossible, and moved the U.S. embassy in Israel to the Holy City of Jerusalem.

When Biden, President In Name Only (PI-NO) was sworn into office under mounds of suspicion of fraud, he carried on the legacy of Obama, his former boss. "You can keep your doctor." (false). "We are the most transparent administration ever!" (false). "We will not shutdown the Keystone XL project or ban new oil or gas leases on federal land.” (false). “We never lock kids in cages.” (false).

Deep State puppet masters could not abide having their broken promises paraded before the public. Trump had to go and the gloves were off to make that happen. Votes came from the dead and non-citizens. Harvesting ballots by unsolicited mail swelled the numbers. When even those illegal actions were not enough, a secret night pause to run ballots through the machines six or more times added to the count. Then software programming switched votes from Trump to Biden and the rest is history...at least for now.

The greatest of all promises are not manmade, but come from God who, in the end, sets up and takes down kings. Daniel 2:21. He may use rulers like Nebuchadnezzar, Pharaoh and even modern fascistic and repressive men and women to punish a nation that refuses to repent of sinfulness.

We allowed God to be removed from our schools and public places; our kids to be taught twisted lies about sex and gender. We made idols of material possessions and corrupted entertainment and ignored the over 60 million innocent lives ripped from the womb.

We, the good men and women who did nothing, brought this on ourselves. Nineteen million registered evangelicals who would probably vote conservative, sat on their hands. Shame on us and shame on our pastors for ignoring Exodus 18:21 that says, “You shall select out of all the people able men who fear God, men of truth, those who hate dishonest gain; and you shall place these over them as leaders of thousands, of hundreds, of fifties and of tens.” The Judeo-Christian responsibility to vote for moral leaders is clear.

And so we are reaping what we have sown, as communism spreads its cancerous tentacles through our lives.

Nevertheless God’s promise of iron tells us in Isaiah 13:11, “I will punish the world for its evil, and the wicked for their iniquity; I will put an end to the pomp of the arrogant, and lay low the pompous pride of the ruthless.”

Donald J. Trump may yet be restored as the legitimate winner of 2020, or he may be the driving force behind the next man chosen of God. Whatever the result, we who have accepted the free gift of salvation, know that at the end of the Book...good guys win and the evil one loses!! ## HOW TO START A WAR

By Victor Davis Hanson

Wars often arise from uncertainty. When strong countries appear weak, truly weaker ones take risks they otherwise would not.

Sloppy braggadocio and serial promises of restraint can trigger wars, too. Empty tough talk can needlessly egg on aggressors. But mouthing utopian bromides convinces bullies that their targets are too sophisticated to counter aggression.

Sometimes announcing “a new peace process” without any ability to bring either novel concessions or pressures only raises false hopes – and furor.

Every new American president is tested to determine whether the United States can still protect friends such as Europe, Japan, South Korea and Israel. And will the new commander in chief deter U.S. enemies Iran and North Korea – and keep China and Russia from absorbing their neighbors? Joe Biden, and those around him, seem determined to upset the peace they inherited.

Soon after Donald Trump left office, Vladimir Putin began massing troops on the Ukrainian border and threatening to attack. Putin earlier concluded that Trump was dangerously unpredictable, and best not provoked. After all, the Trump administration took out Russian mercenaries in Syria. It beefed up defense spending and upped sanctions.

The Trump administration flooded the world with cheap oil to Russia's chagrin. It pulled out from asymmetrical missile treaties with Russia. It sold sophisticated arms to the Ukrainians. Russians concluded that Trump might do anything, and so waited for another president before again testing America.

In contrast, Biden often talks provocatively – while carrying a twig. He has gratuitously called Putin “a killer.” And he warned that the Russian dictator “will pay a price” for supposedly interfering in the 2020 election.

Unfortunately, Biden's bombast follows four years of a Russian-collusion hoax, fueled by a concocted dossier paid for by the Democratic National Committee and the campaign of 2016 Democratic presidential candidate Hillary Clinton. Biden and others claimed Trump was, in the words of Barack Obama's former director of national intelligence, James Clapper, a “Russian asset.”

If Biden is seeking to provoke a nation with more than 6,000 deliverable nuclear weapons, he is certainly not backing up his rhetoric with force.

Biden may well decrease the Pentagon budget. He also seems to have forgotten that Trump was impeached for supposedly imperiling Ukraine, when in fact he sold Ukraine weapons.

While Biden was talking loudly to Putin, his administration was being serially humiliated by China. Chinese diplomats dressed down their American counterparts in a recent meeting in Anchorage, Alaska. They gleefully recycled a domestic left-wing boilerplate that a racist America has no moral authority to criticize China.

If Trump was unpredictably blunt, Biden is too often predictably confused. And he appears frail, sending the message to autocracies that America's commander in chief is not fully in control.

Biden has not, as he promised, demanded from China transparency about the origins of the COVID-19 virus in Wuhan. By summer, that plague may have killed 600,000 Americans.

More disturbing, as Russia puts troops on the Ukrainian border, China is flying into Taiwanese air space, testing its defenses – and the degree to which the United States cares.

For a half-century, American foreign policy sought to ensure that Russia was no closer to China than either was to the United States. Now, the two dictatorships seem almost joined at the hip, as each probes U.S. responses or lack thereof. Not surprisingly, North Korea in late March resumed its firing of missiles over the Sea of Japan.

In the Middle East, Biden inherited a relatively quiet landscape. Arab nations, in historic fashion, were making peace with Israel.

Both sides were working to deter Iranian-funded terrorists. Iran itself was staggered by sanctions and recession. Its arch-terrorist mastermind, Gen. Qasem Soleimani was killed by a U.S. drone strike.

Under Trump, the United States left the Iran nuclear deal, which was a prescription for the certain Iranian acquisition of a nuclear weapon. The theocracy in Tehran, the chief sponsor of terror in the world, was in its most fragile condition in its 40 years of existence.

Now, U.S. diplomats bizarrely express an interest in restoring cordial relations with Iran, rebooting the Iran deal and dropping sanctions against the regime. If all that happens, Iran will likely get a bomb soon.

More importantly, Iran may conclude that the United States has distanced itself from Israel and moderate Arab regimes. One of two dangers will then arise. Either Iran will feel it can up its aggression, or its enemies will conclude they have no choice but to take out all Iranian nuclear facilities.

Biden would do well to remember old American diplomatic adages about speaking softly while carrying a big stick, keeping China and Russia apart, being no better friend (or worse enemy) and letting sleeping dogs lie.

WHERE HAVE ALL OUR LEADERS GONE?

By Chaplain R.T. Byrum

If you are not among those who have been brainwashed by the Leftist Socialist Democrat ideology, then the daily dump of swamp waste on America stinks to highest heaven. If the odor were not bad enough, the corrosion it is causing to the pillars of our nation is a harbinger for destruction.

How tragic is the diminishing number of moral men and women like those who founded and built up this nation under God. Perhaps we have finally reached the bottom of the barrel when Joe Biden became CEO of America Inc. by the fraudulent 2020 election. This President In Name Only (PINO) received four PINOcchios from Washington Post for false claims in his long delayed public address.

As Biden's rational abilities decline, the Left appears to be setting the stage for replacing him with VPINO Kamala Harris. Allegedly having been a 29-year-old mistress of Mayor Willie Brown (60) of San Francisco, she rose quickly in the ranks of public office. Her non-citizen parents from India and Jamaica were in the USA pursuing graduate degrees when they married and Harris was born in Oakland, California in 1964.

Arguably, from a Constitutional viewpoint, she is legally able to assume the post of PINO should Biden be replaced, but then, by the same token, so could any other “anchor baby” who remains in the U.S. and surpasses 35 years of age (think about that!)

More disturbing is her communistic agenda of eliminating the entire fossil fuel industry, the private healthcare industry and the private ownership of guns (goodbye 2nd Amendment.) No surprise since her mother was reportedly an Antifa-like protester in 1964, and her father, who retired on an American taxpayer funded pension, remained a non-citizen still loyal to the government of Jamaica.

It is not necessary to rehash the peccadilloes of Bill Clinton or the broken promises of Obama or “let them eat ice cream” Pelosi or the insanity that flows like a sewer from the current crop of leftist and RINO Senate and House members. How could we have let this happen?

Our first President, George Washington, predicted this unhappy state of affairs when he said, “It is impossible to rightly govern the world without God and the Bible. Do not ever let anyone claim to be a true American patriot if they ever attempt to separate religion from politics.”

That was then—the following is now!

On the other hand, Brock Chisholm, former Director-General of United Nations World Health Organization (WHO) said, “To achieve a world government (NWO), it is necessary to remove from the minds of men their individualism, their loyalty to their families, national patriotism, and religion.”

Can we not see that happening?

As Congress yields its constitutional powers to the Executive and Judicial branches of government, and the states yield their greater power to the federal government, and we as American citizens yield our ultimate power to all the above, it should not come as a surprise that China, Russia, and the Mid Eastern Bloc are licking their chops as a weakened super power bares its throat to the teeth of our enemies.

Does this mean that America is finished? Are we destined to become another communist failure? Will the new normal be permanent masking, implanted ID chips, standing in line for toilet paper and food, no travel without permission from big brother and worshipping only in secret?

There are two possible answers:

(1) Patriots must rise up and fight back against swamp creatures through a barrage of phone calls, postcards, peaceful protests and by being an army dedicated to demanding honest elections. If you are able, run for a local office and work up through the system for reform. Let your pastor know that the church has a responsibility to educate the membership in supporting men and women of Godly character. Pray for the hand of God to intervene and restore the nation blessed by Him from the founding.

But, be aware there may be another answer:

(2) Daniel 2:21 says, “...He (God) removes kings and sets up kings; he gives wisdom to the wise and knowledge to those who have understanding.” Sometimes rulers are given to bless or even restore a nation that strives for morality and obedience. Sadly, a nation that kills its unborn, teaches immoral sexuality to youth, mocks the Creator God and His faithful and destroys the boundaries of sovereignty may be temporarily placed under the yoke of tyrannical leaders.

Still, there are positive signs appearing that will be a permanent part of Heartland Herald content and it is to the best interest to you and to others that you persuade to subscribe for every issue.

In the meantime, as Christians we understand the meaning of Luke 21:28 that says, “...lift up your heads, because your redemption is drawing near.” rtbwriter5163@gmail.com

IS IT POSSIBLE THAT SOCIALISTS ARE UNAWARE THAT ALL THEY SAY AND DO IS ON RECORD?

I'VE BEEN CANCELLED

By Karen Schoen

This morning I got up and took my dog out. He was acting funny. He wouldn't listen. I said, “walk.” He ran. I said “sit;” he stood. I couldn't figure out what was going on. Then I opened my computer to check my emails. After scrolling through them I came across an article that explained everything. I am being cancelled.

<https://flagandcross.com/davidson-karens-kyles-labels-for-people-the-left-would-like-to-cancel/>

It is bad enough my friends, ex-friends actually and most of my family don't talk to me since I made fun of them for parading around in pink vagina hats supporting abortion for all at any time. Worst of all, I live in Florida. I don't wear a mask. I support MAGA. I expose the communists. I recognize we have a border crisis. I don't believe that man can control the weather.

As a former teacher, I want our kids to learn reading, writing and math not how to have sex, become a trans or hate their families, friends and America. I want them to be taught how to think, not what to think. I want the students to learn common sense, to excel, not be mediocre and get a participation trophy.

But I am being cancelled. Who do I call? Did the administration set up a new division The Cancellation Police? Do I tell my hubby I can't help on the farm? I tried that it didn't work. When I told him I couldn't pull weeds because I was cancelled, he said, "nice try Karen. Sorry you will always be my Karen."

What do I do? Am I now a victim of name supremacy racism? Will my SSI be cancelled? My Medicare? My mortgage? My credit cards? My job? Who will help me as my identity is being erased? ACLU?, SPLC? Who do I sue? Will SCOTUS take my case?

Wait a minute. I took a deep breath. I went over to my CD player. Turned up the volume and played "I Will Survive," by Gloria Gaynor over and over. I followed it up with "We are the Champions," by Queen. I reinforced my personal inner strength, I looked in the mirror and said, "Sticks and stones can break my bones, but words can never harm me."

The cancel culture fanatics don't know me. They never met me so why on earth should I pay the least bit of attention to their stupidity. Besides, people who cancel others are mostly jealous and have no successful lives or accomplishments on their own. They get their kicks by trying to destroy someone they don't even know. Why should I care what they think? They certainly don't care about me.

So to all the cancel culture freaks out there who have nothing better to do except let their insecurity, helplessness and envy run their lives, because they are not a Karen, I cancel you. I will not comply.

My name is KAREN and I approve this message.

LETTER TO MY YOUNGER SELF ABOUT LAW AND ORDER

By Chris Wright, Daily Skirmish

When I was a young teen in the tumultuous 1960s, I would hear the old fuddy-duddies talk about law & order and society breaking down. 'What's the big deal', I wondered. Now, I'm the old fuddy-duddy and this is what I have to say to my younger self:

Listen, kid. This country is nothing without the Rule of Law and, today, the Rule of Law is under severe attack. Just look at today's news. Law enforcement had to use flash bangs, tear gas, and rubber bullets to disperse rioters in the Minneapolis suburb of Brooklyn Center. 40 people were arrested.

CBS News Rioters in Portland set dumpsters on fire, threw rocks through windows of a police precinct, and threw fireworks at police. Gateway Pundit. There is no justification for rioting. If the rioters have complaints, rioting is not their only choice; there are lawful ways to petition government for redress of grievances. This issue was identified hundreds of years ago and the remedy is right there in the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution which embodies the Rule of Law.

Street rioting is not the only problem here. The city manager of Brooklyn Center was fired after calling for due process of law for the officer involved in the apparently accidental shooting of Daunte Wright. After the emergency vote, City Council Member Kris Lawrence-Anderson said she voted to fire the city manager because she was afraid of retaliation by rioters who might damage her property if she voted the other way. "He was doing a great job. I respect him dearly. I didn't want repercussions at a personal level," she said. In other words, she threw the Rule of Law under the bus and gave into the mob.

She might be a coward, but the politicians complicit in the months of rioting in Portland and the persistence of lawless autonomous zones around the country are far worse. That's not just cowardice. That's a career move. Here's the game: let things rage out of control and people will beg for authoritarian solutions. These left-wing politicians will be only too happy to supply them - 'Just give us more power, we'll keep you safe.' This is a breakdown, not only of law & order, but of the country itself. Pieces are seceding; I don't know what else to call it.

So if you like things spinning out of control and flying apart, you should love what's been called the Soros DAs. These are prosecutors now in office around the country who are not just 'soft on crime'. They have radical notions like tearing up the law books and not enforcing laws passed by the legislature if the prosecutor deems the laws unworthy of enforcement.

We've been here before. Things have been pretty quiescent in this country for the last 50 years until recently, but there was a lot of labor strife in the 1870s, anarchists blowing people up with bombs in the 19-teens and '20s, and campus unrest and riots over Vietnam and civil rights in the 1960s when I was a young teen wondering 'is this normal?'

It's not normal to have people rioting in the streets. It's not normal for politicians to cave in to the mob. It's not normal to have politicians put their stamp of approval on months of rioting and refuse to intervene. So yes, kid, law & order IS important and the grassroots better organize more effectively to stop the madness before authoritarians seize the moment to seize our liberties. I can't tell you what made Rome fall, but I can tell that, at the end, no one was left who was willing to fight for the Idea of Rome. It's time to hear from the people who are willing to fight for the American Idea - one nation where the people are sovereign and free, with a government of laws, not men. That's the big deal. If the American Idea isn't worth fighting for, I don't know what is. But that makes me an old fuddy-duddy, I suppose.

WHAT HAVE WE DONE?

By E.P. Unum

When Joseph R. Biden was inaugurated as the de facto 46th President of the United this historical event attended primarily by 26,000 National Guard Troops, FBI, NSA, CIA Operatives.

Apparently, additional security was deemed necessary for a President-Elect who received allegedly 80 million votes, more than any other person in the history of our country.

All of the peaceful riots throughout the summer and fall, where stores and businesses were looted and destroyed, monuments toppled and police and citizens were killed, did not require the assistance of armed troops to quell those activities.

Of the 17 Executive Actions signed by the new President on his first afternoon in office, none of those offer any hope or unity, nor are they of any benefit to the American people or to America. Indeed, they will drive us further downward. But there are some lessons we can learn from the new change in leadership to the America we know.

Perhaps now you understand why there was never any action against the Clintons or Obama, how they destroyed emails and evidence and phones and servers, how they spied and wiretapped, how they lied to the FISA Court, had conversations on the tarmac, sent emails to cover their rears after key meetings, how Comey and Brennan and Clapper never were brought to justice, how the FBI and CIA lied, how the Steele Dossier, paid for by Hillary Clinton, was passed along, how phones got factory reset, how leak after leak to an accomplice, corrupt media went unchecked, why George Soros is always in the shadows, why they screamed Russia and pushed a sham impeachment, why no one ever went to jail, why no one was ever charged, why nothing ever happened.

Perhaps now you know why there was no wrongdoing in the falsification of the FISA warrants, why the Durham Report was delayed, why Hunter Biden has not been charged, why the FBI sat on his laptop for almost a year while Trump was being impeached on fictitious charges, why the Bidens' connection to China was overlooked, as was unleashed the perfect weapon, a virus that was weaponized politically to bring down the greatest economy ever known to man and, at the same time, usher in an unverifiable and unnecessary system of mail-in voting that corrupted the very foundation of our Constitutional Republic.

Maybe now you can understand why the media is 24/7 propaganda and lies, why up is down and down is up, right is wrong and wrong is right, why social media can now silence the First Amendment and speak over the President of the United States.

This has been the plan by the Deep State all along. They didn't expect Trump to win in 2016. He messed up their plans, and delayed them a little...four years to be exact. They weren't about to let it happen again. COVID-19 was like manna from heaven for democrats and the socialist left, and it was weaponized by governors who shut down their states and crumbled their economies out of fear. The media, never ones to let a good crisis go to waste, helped shame and kill the economy, and unverifiable mail-in ballots were just the trick to make sure the 47-year career politician, allegedly with hands in Chinese payrolls, the man who couldn't finish a sentence or collect a crowd, miraculously became the most popular vote recipient of all time.

We have just witnessed a silent, bloodless coup; the beginning of the downward slide of capitalism and the free-enterprise system into the abyss of socialism and communism. What a remarkable achievement!

We have sacrificed the greatest engine of freedom, growth, and prosperity known to man on the altar of ignorance and totalitarianism. Think about this:

President Trump made us energy independent. For the first time in our history, the U.S.A. became an oil-exporting nation. Biden's illogical and corrupt dismantling of the Keystone Pipeline not only displaced 42,000 high-paying union jobs, but now Canada will sell the oil in Alberta BC to China while we search for new supplies at higher prices. Well done, Joe!

In a couple of years, we will see the onslaught of inflation, high unemployment, less productivity as more and more people become dependent on the government for subsistence, all of which is the natural course of socialism.

The dollar will no longer be the world's reserve currency, and America will no longer be the bastion of freedom it once was.

America will be overtaken by China as the largest economy in the world and we will find ourselves in the middle of great turmoil and upheaval with lots of civil strife that will make 2020 look like a walk in the park.

The national elections from here on will be decided by New York City, Chicago, and California. The Constitutional Republic we created will be dead. Mob rule and appeasement will run rampant. The candidate who offers the most from the Treasury will get the most votes. But the votes cast won't matter; just the ones received and counted.

Benjamin Franklin, after the Constitutional Convention in 1787, heard someone shout out, "Doctor, what have we got? A republic or a monarchy?" Franklin responded, "A republic, if you can keep it."

Ladies and gentlemen, we have now lost the Republic our forefathers bequeathed to us, and that we fought and bled for these past two hundred and forty-five years. Some of you are wondering how this came to pass. The answer: We did it to ourselves:

- We turned from God.
- We turned from family.
- We turned from our country, our Flag, our Monuments to our leaders who paved the way to our civilization and way of life.
- We embraced degeneracy culture, inviting pornography into our laptops and homes.

- We found it easier to send emails or Facebook or Twitter posts to a friend or co-worker ten feet away from us rather than walking over to chat with them.

- We took for granted what brave men and women fought and died to give us. Their sacrifices are no longer valued, replaced instead with scorn.

We disregarded history and all it teaches.

On our watch, America just died a little. It's likely she'll never be the same again. Not until the 74 million Americans who voted for President Trump stand up and shout "we will no longer tolerate this and we want our country back" and do something about it.

For starters, get off Twitter and Facebook and refuse to be a part of their efforts to disrespect the First Amendment. If companies want to insult all the people who supported President Trump by denying them jobs, fight back. Don't buy their products. Shun them. Until we take those steps, they will continue to wield their power, but the ultimate power is in our hands...the power of the consumer.

We did this to ourselves. We made our bed, now we have to lie in it...until we get off our butts and remake it. It is time to do something about it. Sadly, some still do not know what they have done. They know now. To them, I say...if you kick a dog long enough, pretty soon he's gonna bite. I am tired of being kicked and insulted and disregarded as if I don't matter.

We do matter.

67% SAY THEY ARE DISSATISFIED

By Mike Huckabee

To listen to the White House media cheerleaders like NBC, you'd think that President Biden's poll numbers show he's as popular as Michael Jordan handing out free money. But Liz Peek at Fox News took a deep dive into the details of those polls, and they tell a slightly different story. I might describe it as a story about a lot of policies that Americans hate and a President who isn't getting the blame for them that he deserves because the media are desperately covering for him.

How much longer can they keep plastering over reality, especially with the obvious disastrous consequences of Biden's policies, such as the situation on the border? Hard to say, but it appears some cracks are already forming: 67% of respondents in one poll are dissatisfied with the way things are going, and Biden's ratings on honesty and leadership are falling while the number who think he's dividing the country has jumped.

The good news: I think the day is fast approaching when all Americans can come together to agree on at least one thing: Joe Biden is really dividing the country.

FROM SOFT LIBERALISM TO IRON-FISTED LEFTISM IN TODAY'S U.S. MILITARY

By Major Aaron Reitz, USMC Reserve

In the Marine Corps, we don't have quotas, but we do have goals. And Marines accomplish goals," my officer-in-charge told me and a few other brand-new second lieutenants, each of us assigned to temporary recruiting duty while awaiting orders to Quantico. The captain then told us we had to sign up a certain number of college-enrolled racial minorities and females No need to be too strict on physical fitness or academics, he said. Just bring them in.

That was in 2009. Discrimination of this sort has been an ingrained yet lamentable part of the military's recruitment, retention and promotion practices for many years. But my fellow officers and I couldn't have imagined that, 12 years later, our disagreement with these policies would get us labeled "racist," "sexist," "bigoted" or "extremists" worthy of "eradication" and "elimination" from the USMC. Yet the Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps said as much in his February 22 "core values" memo.

I'm now a major in the Marine Corps Reserve and a member of a formerly all-male infantry battalion. This past weekend we had our monthly drill period. A few days before drill, the command told us that all scheduled training on Sunday morning was canceled and replaced with a "stand-down to address extremism in the ranks"

It was left-wing political programming, as direct as it sounds.

We were instructed that there is a Taliban-like threat in the United States called "domestic terrorism." These terrorists are characterized in part by "anti-government," "anti-authority" or "abortion-related" extremism and various "supremacist" ideas. None of these terms are defined. The Marine Corps entrusts the government's HR department to figure that out.

Reporting requirements are key. Do you suspect someone supports an "extremist ideology?" Alert the chain of command. Have you heard a Marine express "contempt toward officials?" Notify the Naval Criminal Investigative Service. Don't handle anything on your own. Just rat them out. After all, "service is a privilege" and it'd be a shame to lose that privilege for failing to do your part to stamp out "extremists." One PowerPoint slide posed this imperative in stark terms: "Do you want to be a Marine or do you want to be part of an organization that sows disunity and hate. You cannot have divided loyalties."

Where did all this come from? Soft liberalism has taken root in the military over several decades. These alarming trends are already well documented in James Hasson's book Stand Down: How Social Justice Warriors Are Sabotaging America's Military. But in the wake of President Joe Biden's election—and more precipitously since the January 6 “insurrection”—bureaucratic progressivism has hardened into iron-fisted wokeism.

January 6 provided the pretext that the government, media and Democratic Party needed to drum up paranoia about white-nationalist domestic terrorism. A month later, Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin issued a memo to all Pentagon leadership laying the groundwork for my unit's Sunday morning indoctrination.

In his memo, Austin announced that the Department of Defense “will not tolerate...actions associated with extremist or dissident ideologies” and ordered all 1.4 million personnel to receive “extremism” training. And he promised it was just the beginning: the “stand-down is just the first initiative of what I believe must be a concerted effort to...eliminate the corrosive effects that extremist ideology and conduct have on the workforce.”

Acting Secretary of the Navy Thomas Harker followed with his own memo. He announced the objective for the entire Navy Department: nothing short of “eradicating extremism.” How? By rooting out “actions that betray our oaths” like promoting “ideology” or “doctrine” that challenges the “gender identity and sexual orientation” agenda or advancing efforts that allegedly “deprive individuals of their civil rights.”

In other words, advocating for the Biblical view of sex and marriage in law and policy is, according to today's armed forces, tantamount to oath betrayal.

Then came the Marine Corps' turn to mouth the right things about “extremism.” In late February, the highest-ranking enlisted Marine issued a memo to all hands condemning our institutional failure to “completely eliminate,” “eradicate,” and “conquer” all “racists, bigots, homophobes and bullies.” Those people “are not welcome” in the military. “It is impossible,” the memo says, “to be both a good Marine and be any one of those things at the same time.” Again, specifics of “those things” are undefined. The author of the memo and the four-star Commandant leave that to the military's Diversity and Inclusion Task Force.

Finally, on March 5, the Marine Corps released an official directive: no later than April 2, all “commanders and supervisors at all levels will conduct and document a leadership stand-down in order to address issues of extremism in the ranks.” The commandant included a video with the directive, saying, “We must continuously strive to eliminate any division in our ranks.”

We all know what that means: any dissension on any issue that Biden-appointed top brass says is racist, sexist or homophobic will not be tolerated.

There is no doubt as to where all this is headed. The Pentagon's swift and coordinated “smiting” of Tucker Carlson, who had the gall to “diss” the idea of sending pregnant women to war—an obviously absurd idea to all but the most politically correct officers grasping for a promotion—makes it very clear.

How did we get here? The truth is that today's military is running on the fumes of our vastly superior forefathers and the ever-shrinking proportion of each branch that still does truly heroic work and accomplishes truly extraordinary feats. The rest is a bloated military-industrial complex given over to Fortune 500-style corporate progressivism.

And if it's bad in the Marine Corps, imagine how much worse it is in the other services.

America's enemies are laughing at us. Frankly, we deserve it. But it doesn't need to be this way. To get back on top, our military must reject “extremism” training, reverse all the progressive policies enacted over the past several years, return to a true meritocracy and focus exclusively on the only thing that matters: winning wars.

We need a military fit for real warriors—not the social justice kind.

April 18th Maxine Waters, a California Democrat with police escort was in Minneapolis inciting Black Lives Matter to continue to riot. She encouraged BLM to be more aggressive. Incidentally this is what Waters accused President Trump of for the Jan 6th break-in at the Capitol. Gross hypocrisy!

Black Lives Matter, co-founder, Patrisse Cullors states they are trained Marxists connected to the Weather Underground a Socialist movement with the goal to overthrow the U.S. government. Now Cullors is calling people “racist and sexist” because they question her the spending of BLM’s money on a $1.4 million dollar home in Los Angeles along with two other homes in LA and a 32-acre property in Georgia for $415,000.00.

There is another definition of asylum, an institution offering shelter to those who are mentally ill. The 2008 Democratic plank says, “stands for hope; and gives everyone willing to work hard to make the most of their ‘God-given potential.’ ” Then in 2012 the Democrats removed “God-given”. While the Republicans increased their platform to include God, stating, “American’s talents, right to self-defense, natural beauty, were all designated as ‘God-given.’ ”

In the case of Daunte Wright, who was fatally shot when the police officer accidentally drew her gun instead of the stun gun, the officer was charged 3 days later with second-degree manslaughter because the Democrats removed God. “The LORD spake: ‘Appoint you cities to be cities of refuge for you; that the slayer which killeth any person at unawares, until he stand before the congregation (court) in judgment.’ ” (Numbers 35:11-12)

Racism is the characterization of liberal minds. God also said, He “hath made of one blood all nations.” (Acts 17:26) We could wonder if under the Democrat’s healthcare, if you need a blood transfusion it will come from a bag with your race on the label?

It makes one wonder if the inmates of the asylum are running our government?

THOMAS ON SCOTUS VOTER FRAUD DECISION: WE FAILED

From lifenews.com

After the U.S. Supreme Court’s refusal to consider a case against the state of Pennsylvania that allowed postdated mail -in ballots to be counted, Justice Clarence Thomas wrote a scathing dissent.

He stated that while decisions to rewrite election rules seem to have affected too few ballots to change the outcome, “that may not be the case in the future.”

He continued, “These cases provided us with an ideal opportunity to address just what authority non-legislative officials have to set election rules and to do so well before the next election cycle. The refusal to do so is inexplicable. We failed to settle this dispute before the election, and thus provide clear rules.

Now we again fail to provide clear rules for future elections ... Our fellow citizens deserve better and expect more from us.”

NY TIMES: BIDEN MOST RELIGIOUS PRESIDENT

From nytimes.com

Three days after his inauguration, the ultra liberal New York Times suggested that as a lifelong Catholic, President Joe Biden might be the “most religiously observant” U.S. President in 50 years. But the article admitted Biden’s administration will depict “a different, more liberal Christianity.” Referencing Jesus’ teachings, the article said that nations are judged by their treatment of “the least of these” including the hungry, the sick, and the immigrant. Biden was praised for concentrating on these issues.

Ironically, many Christian leaders found it troubling that the president advocates for wholesale abortion of pre-born babies, the most vulnerable of the “least of these”.

In a recent column, Father Jerry Pokorsky, a Virginia Catholic Priest in the Diocese of Arlington, adamantly disputed Biden’s depictions as a devout Catholic.
