

From our caring community directly to the hands of Ukrainian children. HELP us ease the trauma affecting the most vulnerable victims of this unthinkable attack. Regular people like you and me had to leave their homes in a rush, leaving everything they know and love behind.

In an effort to help them cope with these new circumstances we are putting together and sending backpacks filled with necessary and helpful items for kids. Poland and other countries are providing: housing, food, healthcare, schools and a feeling of safety.

However, resources are stretching thin.
