

“The E4 Carolinas program was transformational, providing a leadership development experience, rather than leadership training. It focused on people and behavior, plus provided learning across the industry.”

“I grew tremendously with this unique program. Future participants should expect a chance for serious development, and expanded knowledge and networks at a crucial time in the energy industry.”

“My company leadership learning was complimented by the E4 Carolinas’ program which held me accountable for my leadership development and objectives and provided me unique energy industry insight

About Carolina Executive Energy Leaders

E4 Carolina Executive Energy Leaders (CEELS) program is for Carolina energy executives now in a senior leadership role or E4 Carolinas’ Emerging Leaders or Leadership Energy Carolinas graduates. E4 Carolinas, guides members in mastering energy industry organizational leadership skills. Executive Energy graduates continue as members of the Carolina Leadership Energy Alumni Network.

Requirements – Applicants serve as an executive of an energy company or organization or are Emerging Leaders or Leadership Energy Carolinas graduates. Class size may be limited to a maximum of 20 participants.

The Executive Energy Leaders program is a unique business-relevant, engaging and high-energy leadership development process, producing leaders who add significant value to companies and organizations. Participants will have direct and relevant experience with leadership challenges facing today’s Carolina energy organizations.

Meeting travel and lodging costs are the responsibility of the participant.

Carolina Executive Energy Leaders - 2020

An Executive Energy Leader will:

Learn to promote effective collaboration, higher performance of work teams, greater trust and continued individual leadership development;

Explore avenues to effectively utilize individual strengths to achieve organization goals;

Learn from industry executives and industry critical issues and topics; and

Resolve energy industry issues by finding options and alternatives beyond "traditional boundaries".

An Executive Energy Leader makes a difference by:

- Unifying and improving decision-making;
 - Maximizing productive actions;
 - Strengthening communication behaviors;
 - Integrating tasks & people;
 - Fostering creative & strategic thinking;
- and prepares for leadership roles with increased complexity and responsibility.

A yearlong project and theme will be "the customer-facing" energy service. Executive Energy Leaders teams will study the rapid evolution of "behind the meter" technologies now offered to residential, commercial and industry customers and how the utility and others will provide energy services in the future. Teams will meet or have conference calls between sessions and have "team project time" during sessions to work on their assigned policy area. Teams will present their solutions at year end to a panel of energy industry chief executive officers.
