

Government to Government Relationships

Advocacy Strategies in a Changing World

Date: February 8-9, 2018

Time: TBD

Location: Vocational Training & Resource Center
3239 Hospital Drive, Juneau AK

Registration Fee: $500

This two-day "Government-to- Government Relationships: Advocacy Strategies in a Changing World" workshop will provide you with the ins and outs of Federal and State government decision-making and teach you how to craft your message to have maximum impact on policy-makers.

Raina Thiele, MPP, of Thiele Strategies LLC and Kristi Williams, J.D., with Hobbs, Straus, Dean & Walker will draw upon their extensive knowledge working at the highest levels of government to help participants advocate for their issues with maximum impact. They can help your tribe or tribal organization gain the skills needed to prepare a targeted advocacy plan that can address local, state or federal government issues.

Please email Heather Gatti at hgatti@ccthita-nsn.gov for registration form.

Kristi Williams, J.D. (Gwich'in/ Koyukon Athabascan) served as legislative and policy advisor in the U.S. Senate and Dept. of Interior. She is a consultant for the law firm Hobbs, Straus, Dean & Walker and works as Senior Advisor to AFN. Kristi earned her Bachelor's Degree in Anthropology from the University of California, Berkeley and her Law Degree from the University of New Mexico School of Law with a certificate in federal Indian law.

Raina Thiele (Dena'ina/ Yup'ik) served as White House Associate Director of Intergovernmental Affairs for President Obama. Previously, she served as an analyst for the Office of Management and Budget. She is the founder of consulting firm Thiele Strategies LLC. Raina earned her Bachelor's Degree in Political Science from Yale College and her Master in Public Policy degree from the Harvard Kennedy School of Government.

