

Maine Democratic Party Student Internship

The Maine Democratic Party is seeking enthusiastic and politically engaged college interns to join our Organizing team to elect Democrats up and down the ballot in Maine, including Sara Gideon to the U.S. Senate.

Interested applicants will have the opportunity to gain community organizing experience in an important election year in a critical swing state. Students will work closely with our other high school interns, college students, and campaign organizers across the state where they will learn to:

- Recruit, train, and manage a team of volunteers
- Conduct voter outreach to identify democratic voters, provide important information about voting in the 2020 election, and persuade voters to support full democratic ballots
- Build relationships with Mainers and community leaders
- Collaborate on special projects within our team
- Plan campaign events and refine their leadership capabilities

The internship is an excellent opportunity to learn more about campaigning at a high level, build out a resume, and develop connections in the professional campaigning community. The internship is unpaid but has flexible hours and can be completed remotely.

Interested students should reach out to Natalie Hodgman at 207-852-2791 or nhodgman@mainedems.org
