

You've Got To Know The Rules

The Constitution is the rule book for how the federal government is supposed to operate, do you understand it?

Explore with us how the Constitution defines what is constitutional and examine whether recent Supreme Court decisions or major federal laws align with these standards.

The Founders were not dummies. They created a Constitution that clearly defines the powers of each branch of the federal government. When you read the Constitution for yourself and know where to look for additional understanding as to the Founders' intent, you will know exactly what authority was delegated to each branch of the federal government.

What is Building Blocks For Liberty?

To put it succinctly, Building Blocks For Liberty (BBFL), is a 501c3 organization focused on education, specifically education on the US Constitution.

BBFL is an all-volunteer organization; no one receives any pay; we live on donations and the sale of our materials found in the Store on our website.

What is a Constitution Boot Camp?

Unlike other Constitution training offerings, our classes are presented to you in one day. The Constitution Boot Camp training is apolitical, meaning it presents historical facts and constitutional principles without promoting any current political agenda.

Our training simply teaches the key concepts and ideas about Natural Law, Republic versus democracy, the three branches of government, enumerated powers and additional topics such as the Bill of Rights and the amendment process.

Teaching people how to read and understand the Constitution for themselves and how to use the tools the Founding Fathers left us is empowering. For example, the Federalist Papers provide insight into the framers' intentions, Madison's notes on the 1787 Convention offer a behind-the-scenes look at the debates, and books covering State ratification conventions reveal how the Constitution was received across the country. If you can understand what the people at the ratifying conventions believed the new Constitution meant when they ratified it, then you will also grasp the original intent of its authors. The authors explained their intentions to the people at these conventions to persuade them to ratify the document.

At the end of this class you will be equipped with the tools and knowledge needed to read and understand the U.S. Constitution for yourself. The goal is for you to be able to understand the Constitution and not have to rely on any other person or group to interpret it for you.

About Our One Day Training Classes

At present, we use two methods to teach the Constitution. The first is our original method, an instructor led, one day class we call a Constitution Boot Camp.

The second method is a video method. The idea is to give “hosts” a means to convey the same exact message that the instructor led Boot Camps do. A host could be anyone who might not have the talent to put on a live Power Point presentation, but they want to do something to spread the message of Liberty.

Video Boot Camp Hosts receive a Host’s Guide with instructions on launching the class, introducing video segments, and suggested questions to ask participants after each segment to ensure understanding of the material presented.

Class Specifics

Instructor-led classes are typically held on a Saturday, they run from 8:45 AM until 3:00 PM, with lunch included in the cost of the class.

The cost for first time attendees is $30. For that $30 you receive our textbook, The Handbook for We the People, written to complement our classes, The Federalist Papers, The Citizen’s Rule Book, the Patriots Primer, a pocket Constitution, a binder with the presentation in it and lunch! Additional family members can attend for just $10 each. They will receive the binder and lunch. Alumni can attend for just $5; they also will get a new presentation binder and lunch.

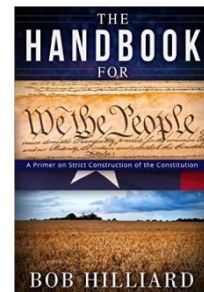

Our video class is usually held on a Saturday from 9:00 AM to 1:00 PM, except during holidays or when otherwise notified.

The cost for the video class with books is the same at $30 with additional family members charged $10 each.

Education Doesn't Stop When The Class Is Over

Once you have completed one of our classes you can use our textbook, The Handbook For We the People, to complete your basic Constitutional education.

By reading the Handbook and answering all 214 questions in the accompanying Student Workbook (in electronic form) you will complete your basic training on the U.S. Constitution.

We will have flash drives with the Video Boot Camp available for purchase at each class so you can take it home and continue your studies.

LIBERTY LESSONS

Liberty Lessons are designed to empower students, educators, and lifelong learners by making BBFL's Constitutional education resources easily accessible to those eager to deepen their understanding.

These lessons address common gaps in constitutional knowledge—such as the historical foundations of the Electoral College or the importance of State Sovereignty—by breaking down complex concepts into practical, real-world relevance.

Whether you're new to constitutional principles or just looking to enrich your knowledge, Liberty Lessons illuminate not only what the Founders intended but also how those ideals impact our lives today.

Our topics are timely and relevant as today's headlines, and we can tailor these lessons to meet the interests and needs of any group.

Our lesson durations range from one to three hours giving you the flexibility to select which classes you want. Below are subjects for which we already have classes prepared; all you need to do is find a location, select a date and time, and pick your topics! We will manage the rest!
