

Contemporary Fashion Rings

A women's ring, delicately designed in a non-traditional style with a vibrant colored center gemstone accented with dazzling diamonds. Or, an elegantly styled men's ring featuring a genuine black onyx. Each transforms an "award" ring into a contemporary fashion accessory sure to gain attention and compliments.

Signet Rings

An endless variety of shapes, designs and sizes are captured with this ring style. Always popular and appropriate, "signet" rings have been with us since antiquity. Corporate identities, personal monogramming, even diamond accents, are available and only add to the classical elegance of the ring style.

Diamond Rings

From the simplest of settings, such as a solitaire, to an attention getting diamond "waterfall", these ring styles are immediate heirlooms treasured for their intrinsic value as well as for their representation of achievement.

Classic Rings

The most often selected design style. Originally favored by royalty for their valuable, large, genuine-colored gemstones, today the styling is most readily associated with academia. The ring's size is one of its most useful features as a recognition vehicle as it accommodates multiple customizations, personalization, center stone shapes and sizes, and bezel (top) content.

Upgradeable "Add-a-Diamond" Rings

Building a tradition of excellence and sustaining that level of performance is not a one-time event. These ring styles are highly personalized, customized and, most importantly, engineered to receive additional diamonds to recognize the higher levels of annual achievement.

Athletics/Sports Championship Rings

Each as unique as the memorable event it represents. Capturing the emotion and elation of such events often means creating new, groundbreaking styling. Combining existing elements in new and imaginative ways, while challenging the designer to incorporate original elements, separates the newest design concept from past creations.
