Self-Advocates in the Metro Region have been meeting weekly on Wednesdays. The officers met on April 2, 2021 and planned the Agenda for the month. Self-Advocates in the Metro Region and their supporters have been very supportive. Anne Fracht and Kim Plaut, board members gave an update of the board.

Janice Smith, the president, called for unity among the members during our last meeting; Anne Fracht also asked the members to respect each other and speak up for themselves. We had the opportunity to meet with Colt Duckworth from the Medfield Mills School who want us to present on Self-Advocacy to the school kids from his school. Self-Advocates in the Metro Region, in collaboration with Kamisha Heriveaux, the MASS Self-Advocate Content Expert, are preparing a presentation for Medfield Mill's School kids.
