The Southeast Region had two great meetings during the month of April, the monthly Regional Meeting and a new meeting style for the region, a monthly Drop-In Meeting!

A great group of folks joined in for the Regional Meeting and had presentations from two special guests. Guests from the Sexual Assault Resource Unit (SARU) led the group through an educational bingo game. The second guest was a self-advocate from southeast Brockton area who shared about internet and online dating safety. It was a very good meeting of learning and everyone shared interest in having more guest speakers in the future!

This month was also the first ever SE drop-in meeting, which is meant to be a more casual, informal meeting for regional members to hop on and just chat. Just a few folks joined, but we had some great conversations about topics on their minds. People shared interest in having discussion questions for future meetings and activities like games and art.
