

Wilderness First Aid & CPR Training

Wilderness First Aid This course was designed by the Boy Scouts of America for situations occurring in areas where normal emergency services (911) response is unavailable or significantly delayed. It could be a lifesaver for hunters, back country hikers, and Church youth leaders or mission volunteers operating in impoverished, remote, or disaster stricken locations. The course fulfills the first aid requirement for all BSA High Adventure bases and activities as well as the Venturing Core Requirement for First Aid.

- Scene Safety, Initial Size Up, and Rapid Patient Assessment
- Rapid interventions including Major Bleeding Control (BCON)
- Secondary Patient Assessment – Patient History (SAMPLE)
- Trauma interventions including Spinal Injuries, Burns, Bandaging, and Splinting
- Medical interventions for Heart Attack, Shock, Bites, Stings, Allergic Reactions / Anaphylactic Shock, Diabetic Emergencies, Seizures, Heat and Cold Emergencies
- Accident and Illness Prevention and Much More.

CPR Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation including AED certification is required for WFA. If you do not have a current CPR certification, this course is available on Sunday.
