Paul's Pagan World. Paul the Apostle was as Jewish as they came, but like all Jews of the first century, lived in a world saturated by Greek-Roman religion, with temples on every street corner, shrines in every household, and daily sacrifice done to "care for" (cultus) the Gods. But the term "Christian" was largely unknown. The word "Catholic" in terms of a religion, did not yet exist. Today, while pilgramaging in Israel/Palestine and Turkey, and walking through the ruins of ancient cities, one can get a taste of what it was like to "preach the Gospel" in such a world. Take a tour of parts of this world accented by videos, photos and personal anecdotes from my pilgramages, with reference to New Testament passages that reflect this reality. "Diversity" is nothing new! Let's go!

Lunchtime Food for Thought: Biblical Novellas: Last Books of the Old Testament and Truth for Our Time. The stories of Tobit, Judith, and Esther teach God's Truth to an era of polarization, fake news, and cancel culture. Their truth might be applicable today. Bring your Bibles and prepare to unpack meanings and messages of these last books of the Old Testament.

Current Events & Faith: Jesus in the News

Where is the Pope taking the Church – now? After three years, John Allen returns to America, and The University Series. Come listen to the world's foremost Vatican reporter and learn how to answer "What is going on in the Vatican?" What will the current Synod accomplish? What will the Pope do about the Synodal Path of the church in Germany? Will there ever be a Vatican bank free from scandal? What are we to make of the daily news from papal trips, and competing factions?

John Allen, Jr.	CE-01	Thursday, February 23	7:00-8:30 PM	St. Jude the Apostle

Are Catholicism and Capitalism Compatible? In this presentation, Dr. Stuart Squires, Director of the M.A. in Pastoral Ministry Program at St. John's Seminary, discusses the Catholic vision of economics. Relying on theological insights from the Church, rather than secular economic theories, Squires describes with nuance how Catholicism advocates for an economic vision that is ordered towards true human flourishing.

What is the Synod on Synodality and Why Should I Care? According to Pope Francis, synodality will be key for the Church in the future. Synodality is "the action of the Spirit in the communion of the Body of Christ and in the missionary journey of the People of God," a process of discernment giving a prominent place to the laity. But what does it have to do with me?

Dr. Janice Daurio	CE-03	Thursday, March 9	7:00-8:30 PM	Holy Cross

Lunchtime Food for Thought: Collaborative Ministry in the Catholic Church – Yes, it does exist! Women are under-represented in many areas of our faith communities. Come ready to discuss some creative ways women can be real "co-workers" in the vineyard that help support our dwindling and thinly-spread clergy and renew the whole community's feeling of belonging.

Noël Fuentes	CE-04	Friday, March 24	12:15-1:45PM	Padre Serra

Why Be Catholic? Heck! Why Be Christian at All? The "Nones" are taking over the World. "Nones," not the Nuns. In recent surveys, more and more people are indicating they are not Catholic or have no faith at all. Question? Were they ever given any reasons to be a Christian other than: "Pay, Pray and Obey." There are some wonderful reasons to have a life based on faith rather than secular ideology.

Faith and Science: Friends or Foes?

Physics and Faith: From Light to Life. Our universe began with a burst of light that eventually became life. . . and all of us here on planet earth. How did this happen, and what were the remarkable circumstances that made life happen at all? Was this sequence by chance or was some design going on, as physicist Stephen Hawking once proposed. This book describes the basic science of our universe and the probabilities of the sequence of events that have led to the life that we all have today.

Fr. Dave Heney FS-01 Tuesday, February 28 7:00-8:30 PM St. Peter Claver

Liturgy and Sacraments: Our Rites as Catholics

Is There a Reason We Celebrate Mass? (Or Did Someone Make this Stuff Up?) Why do we celebrate Mass the way we do? Why is it different from other religions' "Church Services"? This course helps us understand why we "do what we do" at Mass. What does it mean? What is really happening at Mass? Why it's based on all of the Bible, not just the Last Supper? And, how are we to offer ourselves to God during the Mass?

Dcn. Jim Carper LS-01 Wednesday, March 1 7:00-8:30 PM St. Bernardine of Siena

The Liturgy of Heaven and the Liturgy of the Earth. Why Do We Go to Mass? During these years of pandemic there were times when it was impossible for us to gather to celebrate the Eucharist. Technology has helped us stay connected with our parish communities, but is it the same to watch Mass online as to participate in person in the celebration of the Eucharist? What do we miss when we participate in Sunday Mass remotely? In this session we will explore with Deacon Memo the treasures of our liturgy and how the liturgy we celebrate on Earth connects us with the eternal praise God receives from the angels and saints in Heaven.

Dcn. Memo Rodriguez LS-02 Monday, March 13 7:00-8:30 PM Holy Cross

For Whom Do We Give Thanks in the Eucharist? The U.S. Bishops have announced a Eucharistic Revival. The Eucharist is the sacrament of thanksgiving to God. God is Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Which comes first? Do we give thanks first to God the Father who made us? Should we focus on Jesus Christ, the one "through whom" we have our communion? Is the Holy Spirit merely a distant third, the one "in whom" we Christians pray? Eucharistic revival means understanding God as Trinity.

Dr. Mark Fischer LS-03 Thursday, March 16 7:00-8:30 PM St. Paschal Baylon

What are the Biblical Foundations of the Mass? It may seem obvious that the Catholic Mass is based on Jesus' "Last Supper" with his disciples. Yes, but it is ALSO based on so much more, so many other biblical events and texts, from both the Old and New Testaments. Learning more about its biblical background will help us understand, appreciate, and experience more fully each Mass in which we participate.

Fr. Felix Just LS-04 Wednesday, March 22 7:00-8:30 PM Mission Basilica San Buenaventura

Can the Mass Be Celebrated in Latin? This year, 2023, marks the 60th anniversary of the Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy (Sacrosanctum Concilium). During these 60 years, different liturgical reforms have taken place, which has affected the way we worship God. These reforms have been embraced, and others have been questioned. We continue to ask, "Can the Mass be celebrated in Latin? Can the priest give his back to the people while celebrating Mass?" etc. In this presentation we will look on the historical liturgical reforms since Vatican II to Pope Francis.

Fr. Juan Ochoa LS-05 Wednesday, March 22 7:00-8:30 PM St. Peter Claver

What Does "Eucharist" Really Mean? Is "Eucharist" a verbal prayer? Or the second half of the Mass? Or the bread consecrated at Mass and received in communion? Or the blessed sacrament reserved in a tabernacle? Or all of the above? During this time of "National Eucharistic Revival," where should our focus be? What will most help us grow in our Catholic faith and Christian life?

Fr. Felix Just LS-06 Thursday, March 23 7:00-8:30 PM Sacred Heart

Presentaciones Hispanas Conectando la fe en Nuestra Vida Diaria

¿Se puede celebrar la misa en latín? Este año, 2023, marca el 60 aniversario de la Constitución sobre el Sagrado Liturgy (Sacrosanctum Concilium). Durante estos 60 años se han llevado a cabo diferentes reformas litúrgicas, que han afectado la forma en que adoramos a Dios. Estas reformas han sido aceptadas, y otras han sido cuestionadas. Continuamos preguntando: "¿Se puede celebrar la misa en latín? ¿Puede el sacerdote dar la espalda al pueblo mientras celebra la misa?", etc. En esta presentación veremos las reformas litúrgicas históricas desde el Vaticano II hasta el Papa Francisco.

Esta sesión en particular con el Padre Memo se enfocará en explicar por qué nosotros, como católicos, debemos familiarizarnos con lo que implican las Cuatro Marcas de la Iglesia; y cómo podemos vivir lo que realmente implica para nosotros hoy en días, como siervos discípulos de Cristo.

La Liturgia del Cielo y la Liturgia de la Tierra. ¿Por qué vamos a misa? Durante estos años de pandemia hubo ocasiones en que nos fue imposible reunirnos para celebrar la Eucaristía. La tecnología nos ayudó a mantenernos en contacto con nuestras comunidades parroquiales, pero ¿es lo mismo ver la misa por Internet que participar presencialmente en la celebración de la Eucaristía? ¿De qué nos perdimos cuando participamos remotamente en la misa dominical? En esta sesión exploraremos con el Diácono Memo los tesoros de nuestra liturgia y la forma en que la liturgia que celebramos en la Tierra nos conecta con la alabanza eterna que Dios recibe de los ángeles y los santos en el Cielo.
