

Legislative Update

Week of May 12, 2025

Josh Stein, Governor

Eddie M. Buffaloe, Jr., Secretary

This week, the Senate focused its time on confirmations for various cabinet secretaries and commission appointees, while the House reviewed different areas of its proposed budget. The full House budget, including salaries and capital projects, is expected to be released Monday.

The House Appropriations Subcommittee on Justice and Public Safety met Thursday to review provisions directly impacting DPS and other justice and public safety agencies. While this budget cycle was widely expected to be lean, DPS fared better than many state agencies, which are facing significant cuts. A breakdown of key provisions affecting DPS is outlined below.

In other news, the Governor signed H 74 – Budget Technical Corrections into law this week. The final version did not include the original provisions to transfer filled positions and two occupied floors of the Archdale Building from DPS to the State Highway Patrol.

Next week, the focus will shift to passage of the House budget. Committee hearings on the bill will occur Tuesday, with floor votes likely on Wednesday and Thursday. After passing the House, the bill will go back to the Senate. Typically, the Senate does not concur with the changes made in the House, and the bill will go to a conference committee. Those meetings are not public, and the bill cannot be changed once a final agreement is reached.
